CONVENTION OPENING SESSION

President Bea Holland called the Fifty Eighth Annual Meeting of the Association to order at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, April 13th. Ms. Linda Walker led the assembly in singing "O Canada". President Bea Holland introduced the AVICC Executive to the delegates in attendance.

Mayor Teunis Westbroek welcomed the delegates to Qualicum Beach. The Mayor thanked Ms. Walker and urged the delegates to take advantage of their stay in Qualicum Beach to get out and enjoy the community.

President Holland reviewed the program for the weekend and highlighted some of the special sessions that delegates would have the opportunity to take part in throughout the Convention. Councillor Holland advised that the Premier Gordon Campbell would be speaking right after the Opening Ceremonies. Councillor Holland introduced special guests, UBCM President Brenda Binnie and LMLGA President Councillor Sharon Gaetz.

FIRST REPORT FROM THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

The Chair of the Nominating Committee, Past President Mayor Jack Peake, presented the Nominating Committee Report for the positions on the 2007 Executive and advised that there would be a call for nominations from the floor for the Table Officer positions at 4:05 p.m. Nominations received in advance were:

- President
  Director Rod Sherrell, Mt. Waddington RD
- First Vice-President
  Mayor Barry Janyk, Town of Gibsons
- Second Vice-President
  No nominations received
- Director at Large
  Mayor Christopher Causton, District of Oak Bay
  Councillor Rob Johnson, Town of Ladysmith
ADDRESS BY THE HONOURABLE GORDON CAMPBELL

President Holland introduced Premier Campbell. Premier Campbell’s remarks are annexed to these minutes as Appendix “A”. Mayor Westbroek thanked Premier Campbell and presented him with a gift.

2008 and 2010 – OPPORTUNITIES AND OLYMPIC GAMES

Director Rod Sherrell introduced Mr. Ken Veldeman of the 2010 Commerce Centre and Mr. Chris Gudgeon of BC 2008. Mr. Veldeman and Mr. Gudgeon made a presentation and spoke of the opportunities for BC communities as we move toward the 150th anniversary of BC and the 2010 Olympic Games. Director Sherrell thanked Mr. Veldeman and Mr. Gudgeon and presented them with a gift.

KEYNOTE PANEL

President Holland introduced Reverend Al Tysick of the Open Door, Inspector John Ducker of the Victoria City Police and Ms. Jody Patterson from PEERS. The panel spoke of the social issues facing our communities. Reverend Tysick spoke of our inability in the past to address the issue of poverty in our communities and the political abandonment of social housing and social programs and social vision over the past twenty-five years. The Reverend stated that politicians and police agree that jailing offenders has not addressed the poverty issue and its ensuing problems and advised that solutions are possible but they need to be new and creative solutions. Inspector Ducker told the delegates that policing in 2007 is very different today and trying to protect the safety and well being of the general public while policing the problems created by poverty and drug addiction is very difficult. The Inspector went on to say that in today’s world the policing is actually done by a number of different organizations, not just the police. The standard legal framework no longer applies to the reality of policing in today’s world and the challenge for our lawmakers is to look at what is actually happening in the real world and give the police the tools to address those situations. The Inspector went on to say that since many of the issues with homelessness often lead to petty crime the public continue to look to the police to deal with these issues but the reality is that the homeless problems particularly related to drug and mental illness have overwhelmed the police resources and process of arrest have often become futile. Inspector Ducker went on to say that the issue is that the lawmakers and government need to give police the ability to deal with these issues in a coordinated way with other agencies to deal with these problems. Ms. Patterson gave a brief history of how PEERS came about and advised that their purpose is to assist sex trade workers deal not to try and get them out of the sex trade but rather deal with the issue as it is. She went on to say that the sex trade exists because of supply and demand. Ms. Patterson spoke of the 15 - 20% of sex trade workers that come from very disadvantaged lifestyles then the addiction to drugs and the high risk due to current laws that force them to work in dark and dangerous areas. Ms. Patterson advised delegates that this social problem becomes your problem if it moves into your neighborhood and involves noise, traffic, condoms, needles and possible violence. There is a lack of resources for the girls that would really like to get out of the sex trade. Ms. Patterson told the delegates that the sex trade is happening in their communities and they don’t have the services to assist those workers and urged communities to set up some means of making that initial contact to ensure the workers safety. Councillor Holland chaired a Q and A session and thanked the presenters. A donation was made to panelists for a charity of their choice.

The Convention re-convened at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, at the Qualicum Beach Civic Centre.
MUNICIPAL INSURANCE ASSOCIATION

Mayor Jack Peake introduced Mr. Tom Barnes, Executive Director from MIA. Mr. Barnes made a presentation, which highlighted the financial records at MIA year-end, and excellent dividends that had been paid out to members. Mayor Peake thanked Mr. Barnes and Mr. Gibson for attending and making the presentation to the AVICC members and presented Mr. Barnes with a gift.

RESOLUTIONS

Rules for dealing with resolutions adopted during the Annual Meeting were reviewed by Mayor Jack Peake.

ADDRESS BY COUNCILLOR BRENDA BINNIE
PRESIDENT, UNION OF B.C. MUNICIPALITIES

Councillor Bea Holland introduced UBCM President Brenda Binnie. President Binnie’s remarks are annexed to these minutes as Appendix "B". Director Sherrell thanked President Binnie for her update on UBCM activities and for joining the AVICC delegates in Qualicum Beach. Director Sherrell then presented President Binnie with a gift in appreciation.

The convention then commenced consideration of the resolutions.

RESOLUTIONS

RR1 LOG EXPORT CRISIS IN BC Alberni-Clayoquot RD

WHEREAS logs exported from British Columbia create forest jobs in other countries at the expense of Canadian jobs;

AND WHEREAS raw log exports increased by 1,000 percent from 1996 to 2005:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that:
1) A moratorium be placed on the closure of any mills in British Columbia until a full and comprehensive plan for a revitalized manufacturing sector is created;
2) Cabinet cease to issue any permits for log exports and place a moratorium on exports from all Crown lands;
3) The government reverse its earlier decision to allow Weyerhauser to remove its private lands from Tree Farm Licence (TFL);
4) The government ensure full public consultation on any future proposal to remove land from any TFL;
5) The government increase the export tax on raw logs from private lands to ensure there is no economic incentive to export, rather than process locally;
6) The provincial government re-introduce measures that will once again make clear the connection between companies logging British Columbia trees and their commitment to manufacturing capacity in the province;
7) The federal government retain legislation restricting raw log exports and align federal and provincial forest policies; and
8) The federal and provincial governments vigorously oppose the legal challenge to federal legislation restricting raw log exports, which would further erode rights to protect Canadian jobs.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

RR2 HOME OWNER GRANT PROGRAM Nanaimo RD

WHEREAS property values continue to increase at a rapid rate in the Province of BC;
AND WHEREAS many long-term property owners continue to suffer a loss of the Home Owner Grant due to market forces beyond their control;
AND WHEREAS there is a general societal benefit to assisting all property owners to be able to afford to live on the properties they have chosen:
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Province be requested to reinstate a Home Owner Grant for properties in excess of the current limit of $894,000.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R1 GLASS SPONGE REEFS Comox-Strathcona RD

WHEREAS reef forming glass sponges were thought to have gone extinct during the age of dinosaurs millions of year ago, recent discoveries show that reefs of these living rare glass sponges exist in nine places along the coast of BC;
AND WHEREAS these are the only known glass sponge reefs in the world, and 50% of the reefs in Hecate Strait have been destroyed by trawling activities and research indicates that those sections of the reefs may never regenerate;
AND WHEREAS the federal government has closed the reefs to bottom trawling in 2002 by implementing fishing closures, these closures must be renewed annually and do not provide permanent legislated protection:
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities urge the federal Minister of Fisheries and Oceans to implement permanent legislated protection to protect the glass sponge reefs along the coast of BC.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R2 DEVELOPMENT COST CHARGES View Royal

WHEREAS the Local Government Act currently restricts the imposition of Development Cost Charges to areas of sewage, water, drainage, highway facilities and parkland;

AND WHEREAS new development creates capital cost burdens on municipalities in other areas, such as emergency services and transportation (other than highways):

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities lobby the provincial government to amend the Local Government Act to allow for the imposition of Development Cost Charges in areas other than sewage, water, drainage, highway facilities and parkland.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R3 ACQUISITION OF EMERGENCY FIRE FIGHTING EQUIPMENT WITHOUT VOTER ASSENT Lake Cowichan

WHEREAS the Community Charter and the Local Government Act now require a local government to seek the assent of its electors through a vote of the alternative approval process where liabilities incurred under agreement or long-term debt exceeds 5 years since the Community Charter was enacted;

AND WHEREAS the protection of the lives and properties of the citizens of a local government and the fire service agreement areas are of paramount importance to those given the responsibility for fire protection:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Community Charter be amended to permit the purchase of replacement emergency fire fighting equipment that is mandated under the United Laboratories of Canada (ULC) and the National Fire Protection Standards without the process of seeking the assent of the voters either through a vote or the alternative approval process.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS municipalities in British Columbia have, for many years, had bylaws in place that relate to the lighting, fueling or use of open fires in order to reduce nuisance from smoke and to reduce the risk of fire hazard;

AND WHEREAS within regional districts, fire regulation bylaws do not apply throughout the entire extent of electoral areas as local volunteer fire departments do not have the authority to enforce against a breach of such bylaws over extensive areas of land outside their local jurisdictions;

AND WHEREAS section 4 of the Wildfire Act (British Columbia) and section 3 of the Wildfire Act Regulation, B.C. Reg. 34/2005, provide that certain key sections of the Wildfire Act and the Wildfire Act Regulation do not apply inside the boundaries of a local government that has a bylaw that relates to the lighting, fueling or use of open fires;

AND WHEREAS the provisions of the Wildfire Act should continue to apply and be enforceable by the Province even if a local government has its own bylaw that relates to the lighting, fueling or use of open fires as a local government bylaw may not cover the same matters as the Wildfire Act and the Wildfire Act Regulation and, in any event, regional districts do not have the jurisdiction to enact for themselves all provisions of the Wildfire Act and the Wildfire Act Regulation that would not apply within local government boundaries:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Union of British Columbia Municipalities be asked to request that the Province enact an amendment to the Wildfire Act to make it clear that the Wildfire Act and the Wildfire Act Regulation:

(a) remain in force within the boundaries of a local government jurisdiction even where the local government may have enacted its own bylaw relating to the lighting, fueling or use of open fires, and
(b) permit local bylaws relating to the lighting, fueling or use of open fires to be enacted provided that they are not in conflict with the Wildfire Act and Wildfire Act Regulation.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS British Columbia has a topography that, in many regions is generally characterized by significant areas of naturally steep and unstable terrain, including coastal terrain, that is subject to natural events of rock fall, landslide, erosion and other geological occurrences;

AND WHEREAS there has developed a body of judicial decisions that make property owners on whose lands are located natural features that are subject to potentially hazardous natural events liable to take steps to address the hazards for the benefit of adjoining owners, where such steps are considered reasonable, even where the property owner has done nothing to cause the hazard;

AND WHEREAS local governments are owners of large areas of land within their jurisdictions, including lands dedicated or acquired as community or regional parks, and these areas are often dedicated or acquired as park precisely because of their natural features, which may include steep slopes and coastal areas that are subject to natural events of rock fall, landslide, erosion or other geological occurrences;

AND WHEREAS in the case of local governments, addressing risks to adjoining owners created by the possibility of the occurrence of natural events may require the expenditure of significant amounts of public money which must be either diverted from other services or collected from taxpayers, in order to address risks that may in some cases be relatively small:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities be asked to request that the Province enact legislation to relieve local governments from responsibility for addressing risk to or liability to owners of neighbouring lands arising from natural occurrences of rock fall, landslide, erosion and other geological events.

ON MOTION, was NOT ENDORSED

WHEREAS the Motor Fuel Tax Act provides for a tax to be applied to gasoline and motive fuel purchased within the Victoria Regional Transit Service Area for the raising of revenue for the purposes of the British Columbia Transit Act;

AND WHEREAS Transit Service Areas in all parts of the province are in need of additional revenue:
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Provincial Government be urged to amend the Motor Fuel Tax Act to expand the ability for a tax on gasoline and motor fuel to be instituted by local governments in all Transit Service Areas in order to raise additional revenue for the purposes of the British Columbia Transit Act.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R7 HEALTH AUTHORITY GOVERNANCE Nanaimo RD

WHEREAS Regional Hospital Districts provide a major source of funding for capital equipment and projects for health care services in the Province of BC;

AND WHEREAS the Province has established regional Health Authorities managed by appointed Boards to determine health care capital priorities and capital budgets;

AND WHEREAS all Regional Hospital Districts are facing significant pressures to meet their own local costs as well as ever increasing Health Authority capital costs, with a limited tax base:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities urge the Province to consider the appointment of local government elected representatives from each Regional Hospital District to the Boards of Health Authorities to enable direct decision making on capital priorities and budgets.

ON MOTION, was REFERRED TO UBCM HEALTHY COMMUNITIES COMMITTEE

ADDRESS BY THE HONOURABLE IDA CHONG MINISTER OF COMMUNITY SERVICES

Councillor Bea Holland welcomed Minister Chong to the 58th AVICC Convention. Minister Chong’s remarks are annexed to these Minutes as Appendix "C". Mayor Causton thanked Minister Chong for her remarks and presented her with a gift.

The Convention adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

The Convention reconvened at 10:45 p.m.

RESOLUTIONS

The Resolution Session resumed with Mayor Barry Janyk in the Chair.
R8  APPOINTMENTS TO REGIONAL HEALTH AUTHORITIES BOARD

WHEREAS in 2001 the Provincial Government created regional health authorities to direct the delivery of health care services to the Province;

AND WHEREAS each of the Health Authorities is governed by a government-appointed Board of Directors who may not be familiar with the local communities’ needs and concerns in the regions they service;

AND WHEREAS elected officials from local government councils are knowledgeable about their local communities’ needs and concerns;

AND WHEREAS these local communities’ needs and concerns should be considered when decisions are made by the Health Authorities:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that Provincial legislation be changed to require that the government appointments to the Board of Directors of the Regional Health Authorities include appointments from a list of nominees provided by the local government councils within each regional health area.

R9  MAINTENANCE OF PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

WHEREAS the Provincial Government of BC awarded a ten year contract to the private sector in 2003 for maintenance of public highways throughout the Province of BC;

AND WHEREAS the Council of the Village of Sayward is dissatisfied with the deterioration of road surfaces and driving conditions on these highways;

AND WHEREAS the number of vehicular accidents and fatalities have increased significantly over the past five years:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities request the Ministry of Transportation to revisit the contract to determine if all the terms, conditions, specifications and standards with regard to Public Safety as contained in the contract are being met by the contractors.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

WHEREAS coastal ferry customers have recently been burdened with a number of substantial increases to ferry fares, which are being attributed to a number of factors (including reduced Provincial subsidies to the BC Ferry Corporation, fuel surcharges and user-pay policies);

AND WHEREAS extra charges to customers on coastal ferry routes are unfair because ferries are as essential as any other components of our provincial transportation infrastructure (such as roads, bridge, rapid transit and buses) and all other forms of transportation continue to be substantially supported by government taxes and subsidies:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities petition the provincial government to work with local government and ferry advisory commissions to ensure that coastal ferries remain an affordable and viable part of British Columbia’s transportation network.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

WHEREAS the Province of British Columbia is entering a process to establish the service fee which it will contribute to the operation of BC Ferries for the second performance term (2008 – 2012) of the Coastal Ferry Services Contract;

AND WHEREAS the Province finances the creation of transportation infrastructure, including roads, bridges, tunnels, fresh water ferries, Skytrains and buses, for other communities in British Columbia, and pays a higher proportion of the operational costs of urban public transit than BC Ferries receives:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities requests that the Minister of Transportation recognize the importance of reliable and affordable ferry service to coastal communities by:

1) Increasing the service fee the Province will pay BC Ferries for the next performance term sufficiently to ensure that fare increases do not exceed increases in the Consumer Price Index;
2) Contributing to BC Ferries’ capital costs in a similar proportion to the support given for highway construction and other public transportation infrastructure;
3) Paying a share of extraordinary expenses, such as higher than predicted fuel costs, at least equal to the percentage of operating costs covered by the service fee; and
4) Recognizing the need to regularly assess the impact of the Province’s ferry policies on coastal communities by establishing ongoing consultation with elected municipal, regional and Islands Trust representatives and with the Ferry Advisory Committees whose members are appointed by BC Ferries through local government.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R12 COASTAL FERRY ACT Islands Trust

WHEREAS the provincial government will shortly enter negotiations with BC Ferries to establish service levels and the government contribution (service fees) that will determine service and fares for BC Ferries’ Performance Term 2 that commences April 1, 2008;

AND WHEREAS coastal ferries are an essential part of the provincial transportation network, crucial to the economic and social health of the coastal region and to the province-wide tourism industry:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities request the provincial government to undertake a comprehensive and consultative review of the effects of ferry fares and service levels on coastal communities, prior to signing the contract for Performance Term 2, and before the commencement of Performance Term 2, to incorporate any amendments to the Coastal Ferry Act that are necessary to sustain the economic and social vitality of coastal communities and to preserve this vital element of British Columbia’s image as a world-class tourism destination.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R13 MOTORIZED SCOOTERS Ladysmith

WHEREAS motorized scooters are becoming a more commonly used mode of transportation to enable elderly and/or physically disabled persons to continue to be active members of society;

AND WHEREAS motorized scooters can present a danger to the general public if they are operated in an unsafe manner or by people who may have limiting disabilities:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Provincial Government be requested to establish province-wide guidelines for the safe operation of motorized scooters.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS location markers on Highway 19 north of Nanaimo are spaced every five kilometers;

AND WHEREAS drivers calling for assistance are unable to describe their location:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Ministry of Transportation be requested to reconsider its policy with a view to spacing highway location markers closer together.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R15 HIGHWAY 19 DESIGN REVIEW

WHEREAS Highway 19 north of Nanaimo has a high number of hydroplaning accidents;

AND WHEREAS the statistics supplied by the RCMP North Island Traffic Services Unit support the concern:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Ministry of Transportation be requested to undertake a design review of Highway 19 with a view to initiating repairs to the Highway as required, particularly in the following areas identified by the RCMP:
1) Northbound lane – McNaughton Creek Bridge to Buckley Bay turnoff
2) Southbound lane – Buckley Bay turnoff to McNaughton Creek Bridge
3) Northbound Lane – Comox Valley Parkway to Mt. Washington/Dove Creek turnoff.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R16 BIKE LANE FUNDING

WHEREAS the Cycling Infrastructure Partnerships Program administrators have indicated that projects would not be eligible for funding for 1.5 metre (shoulder) bike lanes located on only one side of the road;

AND WHEREAS terrain, property ownership or cost may make it impractical or impossible to provide bike lanes on both sides of a road:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities urge the Provincial Government to amend their grant application criteria to include consideration of funding for 1.5 metre (shoulder) bike lanes located on only one side of a road.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS Section 941 of the Local Government Act requires that owners of land being subdivided must, at their option, provide parkland in an amount and location suitable to the local government, or pay to the local government an amount equal to the market value of the land required for parkland purposes;

AND WHEREAS the amount of land that may be required for parkland, or used for establishing the amount of cash in lieu payable, may not exceed 5% of the land being proposed for subdivision;

AND WHEREAS the need for public park space is increasing and a local government’s ability to acquire land for park is impacted by the increase in land values:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Provincial legislation be changed to increase the amount of land that may be required for parkland dedication to 10%.

The resolution, as amended, then read:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Provincial legislation be changed to increase the amount of land that may be required for parkland dedication or a minimum of cash in lieu to 10%.

ON MOTION, as amended, was ENDORSED

LOCAL GOVERNMENT MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION OF BC

Mayor Causton introduced Mr. Tom McDonald, Executive Director of Local Government Management Association. Mr. Tom McDonald gave a brief update on the activities that the LGMA is undertaking to deal with the issues of staff hiring, retention and training. Mr. McDonald advised the delegates that one of the many services that LGMA offers is the opportunity to have LGMA work with staff and elected officials to improve the working relationship if there is a problem. Mayor Causton thanked Mr. McDonald and presented him with a gift.

RESOLUTIONS
Resolutions resumed with Mayor Peake in the Chair.

R18 WOODLOT PROGRAM EXPANSION Comox-Strathcona RD

WHEREAS the long-planned expansion of the woodlot program has been suspended by the Ministry of Forests and Range for an indefinite period;

AND WHEREAS Comox-Strathcona Regional District recognizes woodlot licences as effective tools for community-based forest stewardship:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities encourage the Minister of Forests and Range to give priority effort to resolving any administrative obstacles that might be inhibiting expansion of the woodlot program.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R19 NOISE ON PRIVATE MANAGED FOREST LANDS Comox-Strathcona RD

WHEREAS forestry operations may take place on private managed forestlands adjacent to residential areas;

AND WHEREAS noise resulting from such operations often occurs seven days a week at early and late hours, creating stressful and upsetting situations for nearby residents;

AND WHEREAS provincial legislation prohibits local government from enforcing bylaws when they would interfere with forestry operations (Private Managed Forest Land Act):
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the provincial government allows local government noise bylaws to apply and to be enforced on private managed forest lands adjacent to residential areas.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R20 CROWN LEASES WITHIN LOCAL GOVERNMENT JURISDICTION Alert Bay

WHEREAS the Integrated Land Management Bureau administers Crown foreshore leases that fall within the taxation jurisdictions of coastal communities within British Columbia;

AND WHEREAS improvements on foreshore leases falling within those taxation boundaries enjoy municipal services and are subject to municipal taxation, but the local government has limited collection tools in relation to these taxes;

AND WHEREAS consultation with local governments is not required prior to the renewal of a Crown foreshore lease;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Costal Communities urge the Province to require the Integrated Land Management Bureau to consult with the applicable local government prior to the renewal of a Crown lease and to provide language in standard tenure agreements to clarify that tenure holders must pay all taxes, fees and charges levied by any government, including a local government jurisdiction.

The resolution, as amended, then read:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities urge the Province to require the Integrated Land Management Bureau to consult with the applicable local government prior to the renewal of a Crown lease and to provide language in standard tenure agreements to clarify that tenure holders must pay all taxes, fees and charges levied by any government, including a local government jurisdiction and, should a Crown lessee default upon their local taxes, that the Province will compensate the local government for this loss of revenue and, at its earliest opportunity, cancel the Crown lease.

ON MOTION, as amended, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS the Special Committee on Sustainable Aquaculture, which was established to examine, inquire into and make recommendations with respect to Sustainable Aquaculture in British Columbia, including the economic and environmental impacts of the aquaculture industry in B.C., has not yet reported back to government with its findings;

AND WHEREAS the Province has approved commercial geoduck farms without the benefit of the findings of the Committee;

AND WHEREAS the environmental impact of geoduck farming is still unknown:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Province provide local governments with the scientific information that would provide the rationale for the Provincial Government’s decision to proceed with commercial geoduck farming.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

WHEREAS greenhouse gas induced climate change due to global warming is causing difficulties for local governments in BC in terms of long-range sustainability planning;

AND WHEREAS coal-burning for electrical generation is a significant source of greenhouse gases worldwide;

AND WHEREAS the provincial government is considering applications for coal-fired electrical generation operations:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the provincial government not give approval to coal-fired electrical generation operations until technologically advanced methods of generating electricity have developed that do not result in greenhouse gas productions.

ON MOTION, was WITHDRAWN

WHEREAS the BC Real Estate Association (BCREA) has proposed to the provincial government that the unexpected property transfer tax revenues from increased Property Transfer Tax revenue due to an unexpected rise in the housing market be directed toward affordable housing initiatives:
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities support the BCREA recommendation to direct excess Property Transfer Tax revenues to address the affordable housing infrastructure deficit, and further, that the Union of BC Municipalities be requested to provide a unified supporting voice.

The resolution, as amended, then read:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities support the BCREA recommendation to direct a portion of Property Transfer Tax revenues to address the affordable housing infrastructure deficit, and further, that the Union of BC Municipalities be requested to provide a unified supporting voice.

ON MOTION, as amended, was ENDORSED

R24 CAPITAL FUNDING FOR EMERGENCY PROGRAMMES Lake Cowichan

WHEREAS UBCM provides funding for emergency preparedness planning on a continual basis to allow local governments to undertake a variety of studies on emergency planning;

AND WHEREAS no provision has been made to make available capital dollars for implementing the results of those studies or to enable communities to respond to fire or disaster situations through construction or purchase of required emergency infrastructure or equipment:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that funding is made available to local governments so they may make appropriate infrastructure or capital acquisitions improvements to deal with forest fires, floods, windstorms, and the breakdown in utility systems and earthquakes.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R25 STREAMLINING FUNDING APPLICATIONS Gibsons

WHEREAS the length and complexity of provincial and federal grant applications has become patently onerous and unreasonably time consuming for all local governments;

AND WHEREAS smaller rural communities especially suffer from significant budget, staff and workload constraints:
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the federal and provincial governments immediately undertake an overhaul of their Infrastructure Grants application forms to realistically accommodate for the capacities of all communities so all may have reasonable and equitable opportunity to access these vital funds.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R26 NORTHERN VANCOUVER ISLAND TOURISM MARKETING CAMPAIGN Alert Bay

WHEREAS the tourism marketing campaign sponsored by the North Island Recovery program was an effective and successful tourism initiative;

AND WHEREAS the tourism industry in the North Island continues to suffer due to the loss of the Queen of the North ferry;

AND WHEREAS tourism is an important developing industry in the North Island:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities requests that the 2006 tourism marketing campaign for the communities of northern Vancouver Island, as administered by Tourism Vancouver Island, be continued in 2007 and on an on-going basis.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R27 TRADE, INVESTMENT AND LABOUR MOBILITY AGREEMENT BETWEEN BC AND ALBERTA Courtenay

WHEREAS the Trade, Investment and Labour Mobility Agreement between BC and Alberta will have a significant effect on local government:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities be requested to review the Trade, Investment and Labour Mobility Agreement between BC and Alberta and consult with the provincial government and local government with the intent of making required changes, or exempting municipalities from the agreement.
The resolution, as amended, then read:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities be requested to review the Trade, Investment and Labour Mobility Agreement between BC and Alberta and consult with the provincial government and local government with the intent of exempting local governments from the agreement, or at the least making the required changes;

AND FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED that AVICC and UBCM urgently requests that the Premier of British Columbia negotiate with the government of Alberta, a suspension of the Trade, Investment and Labour Mobility Agreement until full consultations can be completed with all local governments and other affected bodies.

ON MOTION, as amended, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS Rule 26 of UBCM’s Procedures for Handling Resolutions is clearly intended to provide for the greatest possible discussion of resolutions by grouping those covering matters not considered as greatly controversial into a block;

AND WHEREAS Rule 27(i) allows the sponsor of a resolution included for consideration as a block to request that it be removed and entered for discussion, thus defeating the intended purpose of Rule 26:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities request the Union of BC Municipalities to amend Rule 27(i) to provide that only those who would speak in opposition to a resolution may request that it be removed and entered for discussion.

ON MOTION, was WITHDRAWN

WHEREAS all municipalities and regional districts in British Columbia are situated within the traditional territories of First Nations, and First Nations are an integral part of society; economically, culturally and socially;

AND WHEREAS in order to achieve a sustainable future for British Columbia it is imperative that the three governing bodies, Regional Districts, Municipalities and First Nations move forward together;

AND WHEREAS the Union of BC Municipalities is constantly having discussions, forming committees and passing resolutions regarding First Nations issues without meaningful participation of First Nations:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Union of BC Municipalities enables full participation of First Nations in meaningful discussions and the opportunity to have full membership on all standing and select committees of the Union of BC Municipalities.

ON MOTION, was referred, to AVICC Executive and the UBCM First Nations
Relations Committee
R30 PARTICIPATION OF FIRST NATIONS AT AVICC

WHEREAS all municipalities and regional districts in British Columbia are situated within the traditional territories of First Nations, and First Nations are an integral part of society; economically, culturally and socially;

AND WHEREAS in order to achieve a sustainable future for British Columbia it is imperative that the three governing bodies, Regional Districts, Municipalities and First Nations move forward together;

AND WHEREAS the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities is constantly having discussions, forming committees and passing resolutions regarding First Nations issues without meaningful participation of First Nations:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities enables full participation of First Nations in meaningful discussions and the opportunity to have full membership on all standing and select committees of the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Committees.

ON MOTION, was referred, to AVICC Executive and the UBCM First Nations Relations Committee

R31 PLACEMENT OF NEW POWER UTILITY LINES

WHEREAS wind, rain, ice and snow have caused power outages in parts of the Province with residents being subjected to unreasonable deprivation of what they are normally accustomed to for extended periods;

AND WHEREAS a major cause of power outages is the damage to surface power lines and poles caused by extreme weather conditions:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Provincial Government and BC Hydro take remedial measures to ensure that future power outages are minimized, if not eliminated by taking immediate measures to protect transformers, hydro poles and power lines and to place power lines underground in areas where they are especially susceptible to damage by weather.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED
R32   TERASEN GAS LOCATE POLICY

Nanaimo City

WHEREAS pursuant to the Gas Safety Regulation, BC Reg. 103/2004, under the Safety Standards Act, SBC 2003 c.39, a gas utility company has the option of indicating the location of buried gas lines by way of a plan provided to the local government rather than marking out the location on site;

AND WHEREAS the installation methods for buried natural gas lines in many instances result in deflection from the intended alignment, with the result that plans provided by the major natural gas utility in the Province are not conducive to accurate location of gas lines in the field;

AND WHEREAS the consequences of a gas line rupture can be extremely serious for residents, businesses and local government employees:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Province be asked to amend the Gas Safety Regulation to require the gas utility company to attend on site to mark out buried gas line locations in connection with excavation work.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

R33   WATER DECLARATION

Tofino

WHEREAS one in six people in the world do not have access to clean drinking water;

AND WHEREAS the United Nations Conference on Water in 1977 affirmed the right of all persons to clean drinking water in order to satisfy their fundamental needs;

AND WHEREAS there is a global campaign to have all nations recognize water as a common good and access to drinking water as a basic human right:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities recognizes and affirms

- that water supports and connects all life;
- that access to clean water is essential to the health and sustainability of all life on this planet;
- that the value of Earth’s fresh water to the common good takes priority over any possible commercial value; and
- that fresh water is a legacy, a public trust, and a collective responsibility;
AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities work with all levels of government to develop water policies that protect and conserve natural sources of water, and ensure that the delivery, management and regulation of water and wastewater services is a public responsibility, affordable and accountable to BC citizens.

The resolution, as amended, then read:

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities work with all levels of government to develop water policies that protect and conserve natural sources of water, and ensure that the delivery, management and regulation of water and services is a public responsibility, affordable and accountable to BC citizens.

ON MOTION, as amended, was ENDORSED

SPECIAL RESOLUTION

SR1 ULTIMATE LIMITATION PERIOD

WHEREAS the Ministry of the Attorney General is undertaking a review of limitation periods;

AND WHEREAS the UBCM convention and two law reform commissions have recommended a reduction in the ultimate limitation period:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities support a reduction in the ultimate limitation period from 30 years to 10 years.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

On motion, duly moved and seconded by a 3/5 majority that LR1 be considered was endorsed.

LR1 COMMUNITY SOCIAL PLANNING

WHEREAS it has been demonstrated that collaborative, cooperative planning processes increase the efficiency and maximize the impacts of the investments that all levels of government are making in assisting communities to respond to the increasingly complex and inter-connected social issues they face;
AND WHEREAS the Community Charter requires municipal governments to report annually on community social issues, and an integrated, collaborative planning process is a requirement for financial support by many funding sources including provincial and federal governments;

AND WHEREAS municipal governments need support to ensure the existence of appropriate community driven social planning processes in their communities:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities ask the provincial government to commit to providing sustained financial support for local community social planning processes that serve to support and integrate responses to social issues throughout BC.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

On motion, duly moved and seconded by a 3/5 majority that LR2 to LR8 be considered was endorsed.

LR2 PROVINCIAL FUNDING FOR ARCHAEOLOGICAL COSTS BORNE BY LOCAL GOVERNMENT North Saanich

WHEREAS local governments within British Columbia are required to undertake major construction projects to provide services such as roads, community sewer systems and community water systems to service properties within their jurisdictions;

AND WHEREAS these works involve the excavation of lands, which may include First Nations lands, during the construction phase of such projects;

AND WHEREAS the provincial Heritage Conversation Act requires that all archaeological sites and findings be recorded and documented in accordance with the legislation;

AND WHEREAS the costs incurred by local governments to comply with the legislation are prohibitive:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Province of BC consider providing funding equal to 100% of the total expenditures borne by local governments to record and document archaeological findings in accordance with the provincial Heritage Conservation Act.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED
WHEREAS resource communities are being impacted by extensive financial challenges to both business and local government, which is resulting in an increase in poorly maintained and run down commercial buildings that diminish the positive image and ability for a community to revitalize and improve its financial state;

AND WHEREAS the province has provided modest programs to local governments such as the revitalization tax exemption that are ineffective in fiscally challenged resource communities, that do not have a large enough tax base to assume the reallocation of the tax burden;

AND WHEREAS there needs to be a second look at ways for the province to partner with local governments to create incentives for property owners to work with government to revitalize resource communities:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities request that the province meet to develop effective revitalization programs for the province’s resource communities, including an investigation into tax restructuring to eliminate disincentives to upgrade buildings and reintroduction of the Downtown Revitalization Program.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

WHEREAS the Trade and Investment Labour Mobility Agreement (TILMA) signed by the BC and Alberta Governments and due to come in force April, 2007 and which is binding on municipalities in April 2009:

(a) makes it possible for outside investors to impose substantial legal expenses on municipalities and potentially to overturn local government contracts, bylaws and regulations (including land use, zoning and environmental bylaws) decided by local governments to meet the wishes of their residents within the powers granted under existing BC legislation;

(b) any rezoning approved by a BC municipality will have the effect of establishing statutory precedent such that similar zoning cannot be denied to other applicants. If requested zoning similar to that granted in other cases is denied by the municipality it will be liable to a maximum of $5 m per case.
(c) provides no protection for the Agricultural Land Reserve despite a section of the agreement where each province has the opportunity to insert exceptions, exposing the ALR to laws governing agricultural land in Alberta where a reserve does not exist:

THEREFORE the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities requests the Union of BC Municipalities to urgently convene a meeting of concerned municipalities to form a working group that will:
(a) be sufficiently resourced to undertake an immediate review of the impact of this agreement on municipalities, and
(b) immediately upon conclusion of this review undertake negotiations with the Province Government to have TILMA amended so that it is in alignment with current municipal legislation and protects municipalities from the consequences of this agreement.

ON MOTION, was WITHDRAWN

LR5   BLOOD SAMPLES ACT   View Royal

WHEREAS the number of contacts of blood-borne pathogens through dirty needles is increasing and local government workers, emergency workers (police, fire and ambulance) and good Samaritans are exposed to these hazards, which could negatively affect their lives and their families’ lives;

AND WHEREAS there is a need to determine, in a short period of time, by way of a blood sample, whether or not there is a risk of infection from contact with a dirty needle:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the AVICC request that the UBCM, through its Executive, direct its staff to pursue and research this issue and work with the provincial government to draft a form of Blood Samples Act, similar to other jurisdictions, such as Ontario and Alberta.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

LR6   CONSERVATION INVESTMENTS AND INCENTIVES INITIATIVE FUND   Central Coast RD

WHEREAS the governments of British Columbia and Canada have introduced the Conservation Investments and Incentives Initiative (CHII) Fund to mitigate the impact of land use planning on Coastal BC First Nations;
AND WHEREAS the Central Coast Land and Resource Management Plan’s (CCLRMP) General Management Direction, Sec. 4.2.6 Communities defined goals, objectives and strategies include:

(a) create a positive economic, social and cultural climate for local communities,
(b) realize the socio-economic potential of the plan area for First Nations, local communities, residents and other provincial interests, and
(c) distribution of resources – there is a fair distribution of resources, benefits, costs and risks across all parts of BC and Canada, including Coastal Communities, aboriginal and non-aboriginal people;

AND WHEREAS the CCLRMP’s Ecosystem-Based Management Plan’s goals and principles include:
(a) consider all community and other interests affected, and
(b) fairness

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities lobby the governments of BC and Canada to ensure “ALL” residents of the BC Central Coast are deemed eligible recipients and beneficiaries.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

LR7  BC FERRIES ROUTE 40

WHEREAS the Central Coast Regional District (CCRD) board of directors has deemed BC Ferries Route 40, Discovery Coast Passage, as critical economic and transportation infrastructure;

AND WHEREAS Central Coast residents desire to be actively involved in the decision-making process regarding the delivery of Route 40 services:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities and the Union of BC Municipalities to lobby BC Ferries and the BC Ministry of Transportation to ensure the delivery of service on Route 40.

ON MOTION, was ENDORSED

LR8  COASTAL IMPACT OF THE PINE BEETLE

WHEREAS numerous forestry-dependent BC coastal communities are in dire economic environments;
AND WHEREAS it is firmly believed the BC Interior pine beetle infestation has contributed to the coast’s economic predicament:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED the Central Coast Regional District requests the Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities assistance to petition the BC Ministry of Forests and Range to review and if required, mitigate the coastal impact of the pine beetle.

INSTALLATION OF NEW EXECUTIVE

Councillor Holland introduced the 2007 Executive and extended congratulations to them:

President          Director Rod Sherrell, Mt. Waddington RD
First Vice President Mayor Barry Janyk, Town of Gibsons
Second Vice President Mayor Christopher Causton, District of Oak Bay
Electoral Area Representative Director Barbara Price, Comox-Strathcona RD
Directors at Large  Councillor Barry Avis, Town of Qualicum Beach
               Councillor Robert Johnson, Town of Ladysmith
               Chair Joe Stanhope, Nanaimo RD
Past President      Councillor Bea Holland, City of Victoria

PRESIDENT’S REMARKS

Incoming President Rod Sherrell expressed his appreciation to Mayor Teunis Westbroek and the town of Qualicum Beach for the wonderful hosts they had been and in particular thanked the staff at the Qualicum Beach Civic Centre. President Sherrell outlined some of the issues that AVICC would be working on over the coming year on behalf of the members and thanked everyone for their attendance and participation.

CONVENTION CLOSING

The Convention adjourned at 12:05 p.m.

Certified Correct

Eydie Fraser
Executive Coordinator
Thank you very much. It’s great to be here. I was just thinking as Bea was making that introduction that the very first time I got up to make a speech to an Area Association was at what was then the Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities in Port Hardy. That was just a couple of years ago now. I had colour in my hair; there was a whole bunch of stuff that was different then. But it’s great to be here.

It’s great to be here in the traditional territory of the Qualicum First Nation. I want to start by saying thank you to your Executive and particularly thank Bea for the work she has done and her leadership. It is the leadership at these regional meetings that really makes a difference to the UBCM. There is no question that UBCM is one of the most effective, thoughtful and creative organizations that we have in the province and is making public life better in the province. So I want to say thank you very much to you Bea, you’ve done a great job.

It’s great also to be here with Teunis again in his great town and with Brenda as the President of UBCM because some of the things I’m going to talk about, Brenda you’re probably going to get tired of hearing this as I have four other area associations to speak to. But I also want to pay tribute today to Jack Peake for the work he is doing as the Chair of the Coastal Economic Trust and his board of directors. Again I think its because of their thoughtfulness in building their objectives and directions from the ground up that we’re going to watch and see the Island Coastal Economic Trust as a huge difference in the quality of life and the opportunities that are created across the Island. It’s a critical part of our objectives. I hope that that $50 million dollars is helpful. If its not go talk to Bea about it.

It’s also good to be here with my colleagues from the legislature. I’m pleased to be here with Ida Chong, the Minister of Community Services, Murray Coell, the Minister of Advanced Education, Stan Hagen, the Minister of Tourism, Sport and the Arts, Ron Cantelon, the MLA for Nanaimo Parksville and I saw Scott Fraser, MLA for Alberni-Qualicum. Thanks for coming.

I want to talk to you today about some of the objectives we have for the province. We’ve done a number of things over the past five years, which are aimed at trying to help your communities be healthier communities where people have a sense of confidence about the stability of their future. We’ve had to do that in wake of pretty significant changes that have taken place and those changes have been felt here I think in a positive way on Vancouver Island. We have the lowest level of unemployment we’ve ever had in terms of reporting unemployment in the province. Vancouver Island is watching as their unemployment numbers have gone down significantly. Young people are coming back to the Island and are thinking about building their future here. People are getting older here on the Island as they are in the rest of the province. The Island has some significant demographics shifts. We’re attracting older people to come and be part of the Island. As we look to the future we have to be sure we encourage a mix in population so there are young people to help old people, as we get older here on the Island. We’re watching the economic change that is taking place on the Island and really what I want to try and focus our attention on is how as we build partnerships we can create the opportunity to build positive change. Change is going to happen to us whether we want it to happen or not. I can tell you Gerry Furney and I have both got a lot older since he took me on my first tour of Port McNeill. Not that much older Gerry, ten or twelve years. But we’re getting older; we’re all getting older. On Vancouver Island we’re watching as the people over 65 is going to be greater than the number of people under 25 by 2020. That’s just 13 years away.

I can talk to you about thirteen years back. When I first went to Port Hardy and spoke to Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities but it’s like yesterday to me. That’s part of my life that I remember clearly. Thirteen years out you’ll be able to look back from this meeting here in Qualicum and say yeah, I remember that. Whatever happens in this meeting, you’re going to be able to say I remember someone did this and this and that and the next thing happened and it made a difference. It will be part of your life and of your memory. It’s just literally around the corner. So as we look at the world we’re living in today I think one of the challenges that we face is how do we make sure we marshal the creativity, thoughtfulness, the commitment that you have at the local level – how do we match that with the objectives we’ve set provincially and how do we help take those provincial initiatives and drive them to a national agenda that actually helps Canada? Move in the future, shape the future and manage the future in a way that we can say we live in a country that’s better in 2020 than it is in 2007. What are the things we have to do to manage those changes, which are frankly irrevocable? They are not surprises. It was about four years ago, I think you were in Duncan and there was a meeting of the Association and I talked to you about our aging society. The province has set aside some resources that you can tap into to think about how you would re-design your community and re-design the public services we have in a way that meets the needs of an older community. The needs of an older community are different than the needs of a younger community. The needs of today’s families are significantly changed from what we may have identified as the needs of the families of British Columbia fifty years ago. When I was a kid growing up there was 3 point something odd kids per family. I remember there was one family out of all the kids in my grade that had a car. One family, sorry a second car. Today virtually everyone has two cars. In fact the population growth of automobiles has been greater than the population growth of people in British Columbia over the last fifteen years. The world has changed. Both parents typically work today. That was not the case fifty years ago. How we deal with issues and how we meet the needs of people has also got to change if that world is changing.

As I look across this room how many people here are twenty or younger? How many people are under 30? Well I’m glad we’ve got some people who are under thirty. The world that we live in is going to be attracting people that are under thirty. They’re going to be thinking about their future and how they build it. So we have a responsibility when we are fortunate enough to be elected whether it’s provincially or locally to think about how we meet the needs of those people who are forming and shaping our communities. We all want to have young families in our communities. We all want our communities to be places where older people feel comfortable and confident. Those are things that are shared regardless of what region of the province you live in. What we have to try and decide is how do we make sure we build a partnership that allows us to meet those needs, different needs in different communities even on Vancouver Island with about 750,000 people living here. There are only five communities on Vancouver Island that are over 25,000 people. They have a particular role they play, a regional role in the Island and they have a leadership role to play and many of them do that. We’re asking those communities, Ida and I will be meeting with the Executive of UBCM but we also will be asking those communities directly to develop plans that show where they are going to have supportive housing. Where in their community are they going to be taking care of people with mental illnesses or people who need addiction services? One of the challenges we have is we often have resources but they can’t find a home in local communities and I understand that. I was a Mayor myself. I know how difficult it is to have those decisions made. But I also know how critical it is that we make them with out eyes open so that we focus our resources and we benefit societally and communally from the activities that we make.

So at UBCM last year as in the last five years of providing additional resources to local government shared down from the provincial government, passed right through from the federal government to the local government so you make your own choices, your own decisions in your communities that work for you. We’ve also established a number of programs, which are meant specifically to encourage, to build and to create the partnerships that are necessary for us to be successful on behalf of the people that we serve.

I want to talk briefly about some of those today because they’re critical and they’re really stepping stones I hope to building a partnership that will allow us to do some other significant things societally where we’re going to have to work in partnership between the province, the community and local government. We’re going to have to work between our government institutions and people and corporations and institutions to be truly successful and truly protect the values and the assets that we’ve inherited from the generations that have come before us.

So you will recall last year at the UBCM I announced that we would be launching a LocoMotion program. That was a program to encourage a partnership between local government and the provincial government. It’s a 50/50 sharing program. We’ve gone through the first round of awards to date. Ida has announced a number; about $17.3 million has been announced already in the LocoMotion Program for the first launch. What we really need to do there though is use that program and those resources to encourage some new thinking. New thinking about the shape of our communities. We set a goal for ourselves in the province or reducing our greenhouse gas emissions by 30% by 2020. We’re going to have interim goals at 2012 and 2016. But we’re going to accomplish our goals because we think we have an obligation and responsibility to our kids and our grandkids. We believe there are substantial challenges in front of us in meeting those goals. That is why we’re going to have to have the partnership between you and us to raise everyone up. And government in some cases is going to have to lead. We’re going to have to lead provincially where we’ve set a goal of being carbon neutral by 2010 and we’ll have to ask local governments to join us in doing that. We want to provide the tools, we want to provide the opportunities and you’re going to think of different ways of dealing with that in different parts of the province. We’re going to focus our attention on trying to do that. The LocoMotion fund is really one way of asking if you can think of ways to design your communities to encourage more physical activity that encourages more people to get out of their cars to go from where they live to where they work. Create the opportunity for compact communities and in some case those compact communities will not just be sounder environmentally but they will create social opportunities for more cohesive infrastructure.

In Qualicum here I know one of the concerns they have is affordable housing. We all know what it costs to build a house. It doesn’t change. Its land, its building and its time and taxes. Those four things actually create the cost of housing. So what do we do about that? In some communities the cost of the land, the increase of cost of land that is needed for housing that adds cost. So we’re going to be working with the local levels of government to find out how we can have smaller lots, smaller subdivisions so we can create more units on less land and create that in a way that is designed in so that people can actually live in a place and walk to where they work. We’re seniors in fact, we may not need as much space we used to need. We can actually have smaller homes in the communities where they live. And they can be close the services that seniors are demanding. So LocoMotion is going to be asking you to think about those things. And in the second launch of projects I can tell you LocoMotion is looking for new ideas, new responses, new ways that we can use your programs to share them with other local governments in the province so they can learn and benefit from your expertise.

We’ve also established a Town for Tomorrow program. I’m going to get to that in a minute. But I’m going to tell you that the LocoMotion program and one example of this that I think has been very good is what I’d like to talk to you about today. The province and the CRD and CVRD are already partnering in connecting the Valley Trail system to Victoria’s Galloping Goose trail. We had a proposal that was brought forward to us by the Cowichan Valley Regional District to replace the historic Kinsell Trestle. Now this is a trestle that has real history, its real island history. It was first built in 1911. When it was completed it was the longest wooden trestle in the Commonwealth. At a height of 125 feet it reaches 650 feet across the Kosilah River near Shawnigan Lake. It helped connect communities like Shawnigan Lake and Lake Cowichan to Victoria and its supported by the local forest industry. It has a real place to play. Here’s the place it plays. Its historic, it talks about the economy of Vancouver Island and it reminds us if we do things properly today we can benefit everyone in the long term. So as part of the LocoMotion program I’m pleased to say that the province will be providing $1.6 million dollars to the Cowichan Valley Regional District to replace that trestle. There is another thing that is important. We will be encouraging people, cyclists, hikers, people that want to go for a walk, we’re going to be encouraging them to carry out that physical activity. We all remember about physical activity don’t we? Does anyone in this room forget about physical activity? We all need to have about 30 minutes a day of physical activity. If we can create communities that encourage that, that make it easier to take place we’re all going to benefit. We know that thirty minutes a day of physical activity reduces the potential diagnosis of cancer by 15%. In fact it reduces the incidence of Type 2 diabetes by 90%. So if we can design our communities in a way that encourages that physical activity let’s do it in a way that says to people you know if you can just get out and walk to work for fifteen minutes and walk home you’ve taken care of that particular challenge. So that’s really part of what we’re trying to do with LocoMotion as well as reduce the impact of greenhouse gas emissions. This is one way of doing that. I want to congratulate the Cowichan Valley Regional District for their leadership and their vision in that and I’m looking forward to having that trestle built in time for 2008 when you are going to be hosting all of the North American aboriginal and indigenous games. That will be $30 million dollars of opportunity right here on Vancouver Island because of your leadership and I want to congratulate you on that.

As well as the LocoMotion fund we announced a Towns for Tomorrow program. The Towns for Tomorrow program is for the sixteen communities on Vancouver Island right now. From the North to the South, from Port Hardy to Port McNeil all the way down to Metchosin. Any community under 5,000 people and its really to say we understand that often those small towns sort of feel like they get left out and pushed over to the side. We want to bring them right into the centre. It was a $7 million program. We expect to announce the successful applicants for the first round, which was $7 million some time in June. The $21 million dollars that the province has already agreed to put into this program covers 89% of the project costs so I would encourage you in the smaller communities as well to think of how your Towns for Tomorrow projects can encourage the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and encourage us to create more compact communities as you look to the opportunities that creates.

And on top of that we announced the BC Spirit Squares program. It’s a $20 million dollar program and what we’re trying to do is make sure that these Spirit Squares are really reflecting the spirit of your community and the spirit of your province. It’s really critical for you to know that we’re actually very sincere about this. You know your communities way better than we do in Victoria or someone else somewhere else. You know your communities, you know the place you can create as a gathering place for the people who live in your communities. And we’re hoping that the Spirit Square program, like Towns for Tomorrow and like LocoMotion will help us think a little bit differently about the communities we live in and what we would like them to be like in five and ten years and about how we can ensure they are better. I believe that working together we’re going to be successful with that. In fact if you feel that these programs have made a difference and have worked for you I’m encouraging to make sure that you let Ida know that they make a difference. We have lots of applications for these dollars. Think about the investment of those dollars, did they really work for you? Did they make a difference for you? Did they get you one step closer to the goal of where you want to go or was it just more of the same? Its easier to do more of the same but you and I both know that we’ve got to do things differently if we’re going to be successful and get different results in your communities to create healthier communities.

We’re investing literally millions of dollars in creating new opportunities to ensure seniors can find a comfortable and safe place for them to live in. In Ucluelet $3.5 million for Assisted Living projects and that opens this year. In Sooke, ground was broken in March for a $16 million lodge, 67 residence assisted living and care units. In Campbell River an $11 million for 54 units and in Qualicum Beach $4.7 for operations at the Gardens at Qualicum Beach. We’ve made a number of commitments like that which again we hope are reinforcing our senior communities and building a sense of community place and plan that is going to be ongoing. So today I want to mention a couple of last things as I close. We actually count on the partnership between the province and local government. That does not mean we will always agree and I’m sure there will be times when we disagree. What is really critical is your association and UBCM has always been willing to come to the table with an idea of what they want to accomplish and how we might get there. So I want to come to you today and ask you to help us as we strive to do something that is important to British Columbians. We want to be sure that we are a leader in terms of reducing our greenhouse gas emissions in this country. I have now met with the Governor of Alaska, the Governor of Washington, the Governor of Oregon and the Governor of California. We’ve talked about how we work as coastal communities to meet the challenges and they’re unique to us as coastal communities. You will feel it here on Vancouver Island and you’ll notice it. We feel it in the province already. But if we can find ways that we can build that partnership where we are working step by step, year in and year out to achieve our goal of a 30% reduction by 2020 I believe we not create just opportunity here but we will be able to create a better world, a place where communities are healthier for our kids to live in. I want to remind you that sometimes when we set goals for ourselves like that, not sometimes but always when we set goals like that you will hear people say it can’t be done. It won’t work. There are a lot of people that are far more comfortable doing things the way we’ve always done them than to look for new ways of approaching them. Five years ago in the province of British Columbia I can recall going to Campbell River, meeting with a friend of mine who had been trying to sell their home for eighteen months. It was the most important asset that they had and they couldn’t sell their home. They had another job in another community and they couldn’t sell their home. That is not the case in Campbell River today. It’s not the case on the Island. Homes are selling, homes are building, and young people are coming. Older people are coming, the economy is booming. There is opportunity and there is going to be change. What I ask you to do is help us assure that that change is positive and to have the vision, the strength and the tenacity that we saw in the Cowichan Valley Regional District to have a vision and say let’s bring partners together to succeed in doing that. I hope that you will see the province as being one of your partners. I think that together we can encourage the federal government to join us in the initiatives that we take and I believe that British Columbia will be able to continue leading the country in a number of areas. Particularly in the area of building healthy and secure communities. So let me close with one last comment. It’s one of my favorite quotes by a German philosopher who once said, “whatever you can do or dream you can do begin it.” Boldness has genius, power and magic in it. Dream your dream. Act, be bold and you’ll create magic for the people and the communities you serve.

Thank you very much.
I want to begin by thanking Bea Holland for her gracious introduction. Bea is a great member of our UBCM Executive. She serves on the Community Safety and First Nations Committees, and she serves with using tact and effective interventions that contribute to informed and reasoned decisions at the Executive Board.

I also want to recognize two UBCM Past Presidents Mayor Frank Leonard and Director Jim Abram.

I also want to thank you, the AVICC Members for your 100% support in renewing your memberships in UBCM. Full membership brings huge weight to our collective voice.

And I, the Executive, the staff and Bea Holland are going to do everything we can to win that support again this year. Lets start with one very concrete example of the AVICC/UBCM partnership.

We have been talking about a new Municipal House and Premier Campbell announced at the Convention in 2005 that in recognition of the UBCM Centenary, the Province would provide a site near the parliament building at 525 Government Street. That site signals the important value of close local to provincial government relations.

I am pleased to confirm that on March 23, 2007 the City of Victoria approved our rezoning and Development Permit application. This cleared the way for the government to transfer the site to UBCM. A formal transfer ceremony will take place later this month with Minister Chong officiating.

The bottom line is after 100 years, UBCM will have its own building. It will become the permanent home in Victoria for UBCM and because of our close Association with AVICC; it becomes your permanent home too!

You know as well as I do the importance of having a UBCM presence in Victoria. So, I spent a week there in February meeting Ministers and others.

But I set an objective for my term as President to see the full Executive meeting in Victoria and that is scheduled for later in April. It is an important opportunity for us to meet MLA’s and Ministers to advocate on your behalf.

The agendas for our Committees, the Executive and Ministers I trust reflect your issues and concerns:

• we will be talking to Minister Hanson about TILMA
• we will be talking to Minister Falcon about BC Transit
• we will be meeting with Minister Chong on a variety of issues including
• the Environment Committee will be dealing with on site sewerage regulation
I also have made a priority to reinvigorate our federal linkages. I met last month with senior federal Minister Chuck Strahl. That led to a meeting yesterday in Kamloops between UBCM and the BC Conservative Caucus.

I want to tell you that I have taken a different line from the FCM on reaction to the federal budget. The federal budget holds out for us in BC the prospect of the $1 billion for the extension of the Gas Tax Agreement. Think of it, one billion dollars. This is the largest federal cash infusion in the history of this province. The FCM said this was a "hold the line" budget - what is hold the line about a four-year extension worth a billion dollars?

I feel we need to say "this is good" lets get the extension "inked" into the Gas Tax Agreement. So that is why I put on a media release in support of the extension and the billion dollar infusion, that’s why I wrote to the Minister and that’s why we were at BC Conservative Caucus yesterday.

As you may know, there is some turmoil at FCM these days. I didn’t mean our position to be seen as "breaking ranks" with their position, but I think it was not pragmatic and how could we pass by the opportunity to land a billion dollars?

As the FCM convention is ahead of us, we need to send a strong team to the National Board of Directors to get that organization on track and to get it working for all our interests.

I want to take a moment to talk about the Local Government Leadership Academy and its Inaugural BC Leadership Forum. Another exciting new opportunity is the creation of the Local Government Leadership Academy.

Again we had an idea and the Premier shared our vision. We had a vision of an ongoing commitment to training of local elected officials. UBCM does a good job I think with its introductory seminars for newly elected officials. But we don’t have the time or resources for much follow up. This is going to change. We presented the need for good governance education to the Premier and he announced a $1 million endowment at our 2005 convention. And its is happening - the new board has been formed - nearly $200,000 in additional donations from partners like MFA, BC Assessment, MIA, LGMA and form municipalities and regional districts have been received and we have an exciting Inaugural program lined up on June 13 to 15th. Our theme is leadership and the Premier will be one of our keynote speakers. Copies of the program and registration are at our table in the lobby. This will be the first of many programs to be offered by the Local Government Leadership Academy in its mission to enhance the effectiveness of councils and boards we need to lead to the corporations that govern our communities.

SPRING CONFERENCES

UBCM Executive has adopted an ambitious series of spring conferences that I would urge you to consider attending. These include:
• Treaty Conference
• The Effective Electoral Area Director
• Environment Conference

We have registration information at our information desk.

This has been a wide-ranging review of UBCM activities. I want to thank the organizers for inviting me. I have learnt so much about your issues and concerns that will inform our work at UBCM. I hope to see all of you at the UBCM annual convention will be September 24 to 28 in Vancouver.
Thank you very much. I appreciate your very kind words and the warm introduction. I did ask not to go through these bio’s that are printed on our website because they can be pretty dry but the most important aspect is that issue Bea mentioned and I take particular pride in is that I did start my public life as a municipal councillor. I know I made the right choice at that time and I was very much encouraged by some people not the least of which was former UBCM President and a colleague of mine Mayor Frank Leonard. He’s been a mentor to me and has always been a good friend to me. Thank you Frank for that.

I wanted to begin my remarks this morning by referencing something that the UBCM President Brenda mentioned in her presentation. It has to be with the importance of UBCM and the importance of AVICC in particular as being part of an association and then part of a larger organization. I know when I was on Saanich council when it came up for us to approve the payment for the fees for AVICC and the fees for UBCM I asked my good friend Murray Coell who was Mayor at the time, why do we pay these fees and do we really get anything out of it? Murray was very good about explaining that individually as a municipality it’s sometimes hard to hear your voice and have your voice heard and to bring about changes that we want at the local level. But if we all band together, if we put our resources together which I know you do we can a bigger, stronger and more positive effect. AVICC advances things that then go to UBCM and then UBCM works in collaboration with the provincial government and goes to FCM and so on and so forth.

So what is important is the fact that the gas tax transfer that Brenda spoke about, the $635 million dollars for five years which is transferred to you as local government and now a billion dollars that is being contemplated. This is a result of that organization that started at something like your area association, then through UBCM and then working with the provincial government. I can tell you that you are the only provincial organization through UBCM that actually sees those dollars flow through UBCM to you to access. Other municipal organizations whether its Ontario or Alberta do not have the same setup as we have here in B.C. I cannot overstate that too much depending on how you want to look at it because other municipal organizations in other provinces receive those dollars through the provincial government. We said very clearly in 2004 and again in 2005 when we were in negotiations with the federal government and at that time it was Murray and I’ll give him credit for working hard along side the UBCM President, I think it was Frank at the time and then Aaron and now Brenda that we believe we can flow this right to your organization to reduce and streamline the process so you can access those dollars. For some of you who have been coming to AVICC for years and I see lot of familiar faces, you need to know how important your involvement is to AVICC and then to UBCM. For those of you who have been coming for many years, thank you for your support and commitment.
This morning as I look out I see a lot of familiar faces and I saw a couple of colleagues of mine from the legislature and I wanted to acknowledge them. I don’t know if they’re still in the room. I know Scott Fraser was here last night and I saw Nicholas Simons here earlier. I’m sure you will have other MLA’s coming in and out. I saw Leonard Krog last night.

Last year you were in Oak Bay, my hometown from the perspective of being the MLA. I know that Victoria is always a drawing card because for some it’s considered a city although it’s still a very small city. Thank you for coming to the Greater Victoria area and being in Oak Bay because it was a special year last year where Oak Bay and Saanich celebrated their Centenary. They were very happy to share with you the pride in their communities and what they had accomplished. I know that the Town of Qualicum Beach is also going to be celebrating its 65th birthday as well. They were incorporated in 1942. Gerry Furney passed along a little brochure to me recently that in three days the town of Port McNeil would be celebrating its 25th anniversary. They were incorporated in 1966 as a village and now they are a town. So they will be having their Silver anniversary in about three days. So why do I talk about that – because it is important to go back sometime to our roots. A few months ago I was in Pitt Meadow when they changed their name from the District of Pitt Meadow to the City of Pitt Meadow. Again I asked the Mayor, Mayor Don McLean why did you feel you needed to change? He said, “Too many people were thinking we were an Improvement District, a business area district or even a water district so we thought if we called ourselves a city that would allow us as we want to market ourselves and partner with others and whether it’s a corporation or not in other jurisdictions they would acknowledge us a city. As the Minister of Community Services know that I am here to facilitate what changes you might want to make to enhance your profile, enhance your opportunities that you think exist out there for you.

I was really pleased to see when driving up here to Qualicum Beach that while things have generally changed, certain things have stayed much the way they are because here in Qualicum Beach we see that they have been able to preserve so much of their heritage and so much of what they began 65 years ago. The one thing that has really stayed quite constant is the fact that they started out as a community that catered to an older population and now they are a community with a median age of 58.1 years. That is the highest in all of Canada. I used to think from Oak Bay that we had the highest aging population and found out that it was Qualicum Beach. But you know it’s going to be happening to more and more of our communities, which is why it is important that as we move forward and as the Premier has said change is coming. Especially with a very, very huge shift in terms of age demographics is one that all of us are going to have to consider each and every day and month and year as we look out a decade from now. As the Premier said, we’re all aging and I certainly feel it at times as I’m sure many of you do but even though we are again I sometimes look back on when I started in public life in 1993 and I say to a lot of people, “I still remember the first day of my municipal campaign and I started out and said what do I do today and I walked out and I remember the first door I knocked on and it seems like it was just yesterday.” I hope each and everyone still feel that same way years from now when you’re sitting in room and you’ve done two decades of public service or whatever it is you decide because that feeling you have about serving the public should never ever wane. If it does then you know its time to move over and let someone else take your place. It is also encouraging to see so many young people. As the Premier asked yesterday and the hands were going up there are some young people entering public life and that too is encouraging. They are the ones we’re going to be looking at to put these changes in that we all need as we age.

I wanted to again just share with you one of the visions and commitments we made as government. It really connects with the theme that we had at UBCM last year that we had vibrant, connected communities. That still is very much the theme that the provincial government wants these communities to be vibrant. We want these communities to be sustainable and we want you to be able to meet the needs of your citizens, no matter what their age and ability. We want to be able to work with you as well to have our environments to be cleaner. Again we made it very clear that we had to set a target in terms of reducing greenhouse gas emissions. We’re all in this together. Again if we go back to the start of what I said, individually we may be able to do things and we do want to do those things but collectively we can have a stronger, more positive force. At the end of the day whether we see those changes in our own back yards and our neighbourhoods in communities across the province, across the country we know that if we work together we will able to tackle and deal with the climate change and we’ll know that we started at the local government level. So whether you’re going to be looking at things like enhancing your bicycle lanes or looking at alternative transportation, reviewing land use planning we know and you know local governments are key to helping us reduce greenhouse gases. You are the ones who going to be key to providing physical opportunities in terms of your residents being able to have healthier lifestyles that benefit them. Its really not about looking at the past and the old way of doing things as the Premier has often indicated. It means that we have to be engaged. It means that we have to take some pride in what we’re already doing and build on that. It means we have to be exited by the future and we have to take a look at new directions and new ways of improving our communities as even better places to live and to work and invest. We do know that people move to British Columbia. We have migration coming back to British Columbia. Young and old, families coming to neighbourhoods we never expected before and they do so because you in local government have built vibrant sustainable communities.

But there still is more to do. We say this at the provincial level all the time. While we know the economy has turned around now is not the time to sit on our hands, now is actually the time to be even bold and move ahead. You also can do that at the local government level. I know it means you aren’t able to do some of the things you would like to do in isolation you cannot do this alone. So that’s one of the reasons why we have worked very hard to have a great relationship with UBCM, working with you to ensure your communities do support healthy environments, healthy lifestyles, healthy lifestyles for all British Columbians and we’ve been able to so that. Again because of our strong economy we’ve been able to find the resources to be able to work in partnership with you. We also know and I know you’ve heard this before from other ministries and in particularly from the Minister of Finance, the Honourable Carole Taylor, with a strong economy come challenges but there are also many opportunities.
So what does that mean for you as an individual municipality or a regional district? Well it means that we’re asking you to help us build those vibrant, connected communities. It means that to be socially responsible and environmentally sustainable we do have to connect to each other more and more. It means working together to achieve those goals. So that’s one of the reasons why we continually look at ways to work together and we do look to you for your input on how we can make that happen. I know that since 2001 there has been more than $600 million dollars in direct grants that have gone to local governments and sometimes its hard to fathom. Even when I ask my staff to gather some data for me it was difficult to see but when I started seeing things like the BC Community Water Improvement Program and I saw the MRIFF dollars, the Community Tourism dollars that have gone through and the money gave to communities for seniors and just a host of things that I know you can access through the UBCM website. I just know that these were the start of some initiatives and discussions that took place years ago and we’ve been able to build and diversify to allow those to be implemented and then build on them. At the end of the day these grants have been able to do things such as improve air and water quality, reduce energy consumption, improve safety, the traffic fine revenue sharing has been an important part of that. Encourage British Columbians to exercise, which is part of our Act Now initiative. As I said working in partnership with the Federal government there has been an additional billion dollars come through to communities for enhancing infrastructure and public transit which I know is going to be the next challenge that many of you face in your communities with an aging population, with people turning 80. I see this all the time, people who may soon have to limit their driving abilities throughout the day and therefore rely on some form of public transportation. Those are the next issues that we are going to fundamentally face together. So the funds that we’ve been able to provide to you through direct grants, the transfer of monies through to UBCM, I know they’re making a real difference to you and provided I’m still involved in this particular portfolio I will continue to be at the table as we look at innovative opportunities to provide local governments with the resources that they need to have their communities be vibrant and connected.

The Premier already spoke about the Towns for Tomorrow and there are sixteen communities who would fit in that category on Vancouver Island who are under the 5,000 population and I haven’t seen all the applications. I know they closed on February 16th so we’re going to be looking at what innovative ideas you have put forward in terms of infrastructure. The Premier already spoke about Spirit Squares and again those applications are in and we’re hoping to process those and have them available to you in June. And the one that is still out there for you to make application it is the Green City Awards and as the Premier mentioned these are real cash dollars that your community is able to be provided with if in fact you have an innovative idea to make your community greener with initiatives and projects that take place in your communities. The one other area that I know that has been important to you and I want to share with you is the Small Community Grants and the Regional District Grants. As you recall the Premier made an announcement in 2005 where he said we’re going to be doubling that program and he asked that I take that to Treasury Board to find out to implement the doubling. So we had about $27 million dollars in that program which had not been changed for almost a decade and I could have said let’s bring in it in 2009 as he gave me four years to bring it in. When I sat down with staff and said we’re going to have to make a pitch to Treasury Board and either bring in half of it in 2007 and then the last half in 2009 and what would be the best. We thought the easiest transition would be let’s do the four years and lets start with having an impact now and phasing it in with a quarter of that each year. So last year you saw the first increase towards that doubling, about $6 - $7 million dollars. This year you’ll see the extra $6 - $7 million so we will have seen an increase in that program by 50% in this second year. I’m pleased to announce that we have in fact done some calculations based on the formula that we worked out with UBCM that approximately $36.9 million dollars is going to be going out to local governments and another $3 million dollars to the regional districts and we hope to have those in your accounts by the end of the month.

I do want to say and again give thanks to UBCM because they were very, very critical in helping us design a program that was fair. As I said this program had not been looked for a dozen years simply because there had been no increases for a dozen years. So populations had changed, property assessment values had changed so UBCM sat down with our staff and said lets find something that was innovative yet at the same time met the needs of the communities and allowed for some flexibility. For that reasons it’s a doubling of the program but it doesn’t necessarily mean every community will see a doubling of your grant because your population in fact has changed. For some of the smaller communities it does mean there will be a doubling. I just want to share with you a couple of towns. For example Alert Bay who used to receive $160,000 already by 2007 will see $279,000 so they have already seen a more double amount. Highlands I know in 2005 received $123,000 and this year they’ll be seeing $239,000. They’re already almost at a doubling. Those are just examples of how we have managed to meet the needs of your communities and we’re really happy to see those extra dollars go to your smaller communities and ensure that its good news for you.

Three days ago as the Premier had indicated I had announced the first projects around the province in the LocoMotion program. $17.3 million dollars in 26 communities around the province. Yesterday he announced an additional $1.3 million dollars to the Cowichan Valley Regional District for the Kinsoll Trestle and we are now working to put together the package for the second launch of that $40 million dollar program and many of you I know will be putting an applications for those. I think they’ll be out sometime at the end of the summer so we can assess those over the summer and into the fall and be able to make announcements hopefully early next spring. But again as the Premier indicated we’re challenging you to take a look at new innovative ideas that connect their communities. I was really happy to be here yesterday speaking with Teunis and he showed me how the amount that he received for his trail connection allowed this community to put in a trail system that you can actually walk if you wanted to right from Qualicum into Parksville. But if you don’t want to walk you can cycle. Some of the things that you’ll be looking at as I hope you will as you ask for help to open those particular trails and bike lanes and walkways to consider persons with disabilities consider your seniors. Are your pathways going to be wide enough and I know you don’t want to see a lot of pavement but at the same time are they going to be wide enough for two walkers or scooters to pass each other. Those are the things I know you are going to have to deal with and think about as well. But it does mean as I say a $40 million dollar program over the next four years connecting within our communities, connecting between our communities. I hope you’ll give some consideration to that. At the end of the day we know it is about reducing traffic congestion and encouraging everyone to have healthy active lifestyles. I know in particular in my community of Oak Bay and Gordon Head and Saanich I’m particularly interested where there is a good transit system and good alternatives that biking has become really important and not only for people to bike to shop and to work but because we have a university for students to be able to bike to university. Universities are important. Now in Nanaimo there is Malaspina University College and up Island there is North Island College and I hope there will be some interest in that regard. At the end of the day as well you know that you will be helping us reach our target of reducing greenhouse gas omissions, improving air quality and certainly energy conservation. I had a lot of examples of areas, things that are happening on the Island but I think I’ll just pass on that because as I say you know more about what is needed in your community. I look forward to seeing and hearing more about that. I also wanted to just acknowledge that there are some really innovative green projects that are taking place. As I said the Green City Awards that we are going to putting out in cash awards range from the amount of $25,000 to a maximum of $250,000 and its about half a million dollar program over the next five years. So if you’re a leading edge local government that is making a difference providing a greener, healthier environment for your residents we want to know about it and we want to celebrate it. You might get that award and everyone at UBCM will know about it and we’ll be able to post it on the website so that others can take note and follow through on some of the things that you’re doing. Perhaps if they were to build on it they would apply the following year and see if they were able to win an award. We’re really excited about the categories we set up. There are about eight categories and we wanted to make sure that a community of 100,000 people was not competing with a community of about 1,500 people. That’s why we broke it down into various categories so that you could feel that you actually had the ability to compete for those dollars. It’s about sharing ideas and that’s what we’re hoping to do by having that.

Another priority that I know we’ve all been talking about and certainly at UBCM was a very important issue was housing. Housing is important in terms of helping those that are most vulnerable in our community. It will take all of us working together and particularly we are looking at local governments to help us deal with the homelessness issue and the opportunity to treat those that have mental health addictions and substance abuse problems. You may recall just eleven days ago there was an announcement made by the Minister of Housing and the Premier; the largest single investment ever was made in terms of housing. $80 million dollars was invested in housing and services for people that want to make a better future for themselves. $80 million dollars was put in place to acquire a number of SRO’s, that’s single room occupancy hotels to make sure that those will stay for those who might be at risk of losing housing and for those who need housing. I can tell you that our housing budget has tripled since 2001. It’s now about $328 million dollars a year. It was about $112 in 2001. We know it’s making a difference. We need to help us ensure that that difference can be felt in your community. As I said as local governments you have a role to play here in our housing, in our physical activity and our transportation. The decisions that you make at the local government level and the decisions you make in terms of zoning are very important in reaching those targets. That is one of the reasons as well why we ask communities with more than 25,000 persons to identify and zone sites for supportive housing, for treatment facilities and for those with mental illnesses. We are asking you to put those in your official community plan by 2008. On Vancouver Island, for AVICC that’s only five communities. Those five communities are going to have a big impact. We’ll also be looking at developing changes at existing funding and transfer payments to ensure integrated regional transportation and housing plans and that’s to help you make a difference. We’ll be encouraging local government to exempt small unit supportive housing projects from development cost charges and levies. Again that’s to help you make a difference. We’re going to be working on the devolvement of a new assessment plan and new tax exemptions for small units for supportive housing over the next year. Those again are areas where you have a direct role. Its not only that we need to add to our housing stock but it is about finding steps to help reduce housing costs as well so that home ownership is within reach for all British Columbians. It means to also reduce the effect of sprawling communities to reduce the impact of environmental changes and damages to help reduce costs. It means looking at implementing higher density. That’s one thing that we know municipalities can do. While we are going to ask you to take a look at the opportunities there and I do call them opportunities and if there are issues that arise because of that you can and you should contact our Ministry, the Minister of Housing as well or any member of your Executive if you need to put forward an idea. Compact communities mean more of a sense of community as well. It means more affordable housing which we all know and it means healthier citizens which benefits all of us as a whole. I am looking forward to continuing the great relationship which we have with UBCM and as well working with the private sector to see how we’re going to develop new incentives that encourage smaller, more energy efficient homes that use less land, less energy, less water and that are less expensive to own.

And in the area of water, one of the very most basic needs that we all have we do have to take a look at water conservation. We know that makes sense. So why not monitor Individual usage at the individual resident or property. How much water do you use? Do you really know? Does it make sense to let the property owner know? I hear from people individually that they want to know how to make a difference. They do want to be part of the solution and not a part of the problem. So doesn’t it make sense to match fees with usage based on metered water system? But if people don’t know how can they possibly deal with the conservation? So local governments need to work with us on that because I know local governments need to ensure the costs are recovered and that they can maintain the property taxes at the lowest level possible but its important that individual owners also know how much water they are conserving or how water they are actually using.

Another initiative on the go and I know you have already heard about that and that’s business harmonization. A healthy competitive business sector is integral to your sustainable communities and last year at the UBCM the Premier challenged British Columbians to become the first province to enact a single business license framework for local government to reduce cost for businesses. I know my colleague the Honourable Rick Thorpe who is the Minister of Small Business and Revenue is leading this initiative. He’s working in close partnership with UBCM, with our Ministry and also with the One Stop Business Registry toward the single business license for British Columbia by 2008. Those of you who know Minister Thorpe know that he will ensure that we have a great system in place by 2008. Once it is determined how that is and again I encourage you and urge you to provide input on how business harmonization can work for you and your community. I think it’s going to be another great opportunity for you to be involved in. As I say the Ministers model, his framework will be designed based on input from you. If he doesn’t hear from you he will just have to rely on the consultations he received from UBCM or the others from private sector. Don’t hesitate to let him know what you’re thinking on the issue.

Looking to the future I want to say that I was really pleased last month to bring in a piece of legislation that allowed us to see the first signing of the first resort revenue sharing agreement with Whistler. I met with the Mayor of Whistler and his council at the end of March to sign an agreement whereby they will now receive a portion of the hotel room tax and that’s for them to deal with the infrastructure and demand that take place as the result of a huge visitor population as opposed to the residents who live there who cannot handle those requirements. We want to see our vibrant, sustainable resort based communities continue to have tourism and economic opportunities across British Columbia whether they are ski hills or on lake or river fronts or overlooking the ocean. These are about resorts, all year round resorts that are looking at tourism and the potential to grow. The Revenue Sharing program means participating municipalities whether they are small or large can invest in their local tourism economies as we the province will be transferring a portion of that hotel room tax back. As many of you know there is 8 points of hotel tax currently collected and 1.65 of that goes directly to Tourism BC and eventually I believe that’s going to increase which doesn’t leave a lot left for coming back to the provincial treasury. We have said we’re prepared to give up 1 – 4 of those 8 points and depending on the units and population. We know that those dollars are going to be invested in things like walking trails, information centres, festivals, beach enhancements because those are what is coming forward already. So I am really looking forward to being able to sign some of those agreements with participating municipalities. Currently we know there are thirteen resort orientated municipalities or communities around the province. Here on Vancouver Island you all know that two of those Tofino and Ucluelet and I’ve already ran into the Mayor of Tofino and said how soon are you ready to sign that agreement to put that in place because we would like to be able to start transferring those dollars. Otherwise the Minister of Finance is very happy to keep those dollars and I’m looking to get them out to the communities. We also that this will help us reach our goal of doubling tourism by 2015. So many of you have taken advantage of the Community Tourism Program that has been highlighted earlier, the $25 million dollars of which half was already funneled out to you. Thank you for taking up that initiative. Thank you for those wonderful ideas. We’re going to be watching and see how that has encouraged tourism and if there is information there that I can take back to the Premier, my Cabinet colleague that can enhance that program I certainly will.

Finally I want to talk to you about another key priority for us. That is the Asia-Pacific Initiative. Some of you might think well what’s that got to do with you? Well you know that it is a key part in building our economy, in building bridges with communities throughout Asia and in China in particular. As a local government you do have a role to play and it’s an important one. We want to work with you to make sure there are some relationships that can be fostered and established with communities. So we’re going to be helping you in the next while about specific action, about twinning opportunities, sister city twinning opportunities in the next few months. There are some of you who already have those in place. Some of you who have them but have not been able to build on those opportunities and we think there is an opportunity that we as a province has come and make that a bigger visionary reality for you. At the end of the day if it means adding to your potential and ensuring that you stay competitive we want to be able to help you with that. We all live here on the Coast and we know that we’re acutely aware of the things that affect us differently such as our environment and our economies are integrated in different ways but we all face similar challenges. We are all affected by whether small, large, urban or rural we’re affected by changing demographics and increasing globalization and new technology but I want to say despite those challenges each and every one of us knows how much potential we have in our local government and I can tell you from my travels around the province I have continually in awe and inspired by those of you in local government. You have a very optimistic outlook and I appreciate that. You’re looking for solutions and I appreciate that. This is our time to shine. This is our time to work together to inspire others who might need our help. This is our time to be innovative and to be leaders. This is our time to ensure that here in British Columbia and that your communities continue to be the best place on earth now and for future generations. Thank you very much.
ADDRESS BY THE LEADER OF THE OFFICIAL OPPOSITION
CAROLE JAMES, MLA

Thank you for the kind introduction. Today I am joined by a number of my colleagues from my caucus, Nicholas Simons, MLA from Powell River Sunshine Coast. Scott Fraser, MLA for Alberni-Qualicum, Doug Routley our MLA for Cowichan-Ladysmith, John Horrigan our MLA for Malahat-Juan de Fuca and Maureen Kariaganis for Esquimalt-Metchosin. I know that Claire Treveena our MLA from North Island and Leonard Krog our MLA from Nanaimo have been around over the weekend. As you know the Island and the Coast sends the largest contingent of NDP MLA’s to Victoria. Certainly the Island and the Coastal MLA Caucus which is chaired by Maureen Kariaganis is a tenacious and very effective team. They represent all parts of this region. They represent a cross section of Island and Coastal life and they’re working very hard both inside and outside the Legislature to represent you and your communities.

Now I understand and I want to thank you for your patience because I understand I’m the third provincial politician to talk to you over this last few days. I know you’ve already heard from the Premier and the Minister of Community Services. I understand this is not a partisan event but none of you will be surprised to hear that my take on things is a little bit different than their take on things and I want to share a little bit of that with you this morning. Its not because I think the cup is half empty while the Premier thinks the cup is half full. It’s not just because the Premier says one thing so therefore I disagree with what the Premier says. In fact on some issues the Premier and I have similar views. On many others we’re miles and miles apart.

What fundamentally separates a Gordon Campbell government from a Carole James government are the principles and values that guide us in our decision-making. As I said I want to take a minute to talk about that difference and to talk about the implications on your world. As you know I grew up on the Island. Island life and culture is in my bones. I know personally what a ferry fare increase does to a family budget. Before I entered provincial politics as you heard I spent some time working up North and I loved it there. I learned to do a number of things that I never had the experience to do in Victoria like ice fishing and winter camping and driving logging roads. And I did have the good fortune to bring back a wonderful husband. So living in the North and working in the North certainly gave me an enormous appreciation for the diversity of British Columbia and I wouldn’t be standing here if it weren’t for my work up north. But the Island has always been home and the values that I learned here, working at the grassroots doing community work as preparation as you do are values that I bring to provincial politics.

Now some people say that my approach is a little less flashy when you measure it against the flamboyant traditions of BC politics. I can tell you I am happy to take that criticism because I learned long ago that a lot more is achieved by being practical, be setting achievable targets and by listening carefully to what other people have to say. It may take more effort but decisions arrived at through consultation, open dialogue, respectful give and take are much better than decisions made for quick political reasons without explanation and behind closed doors. But far too often that is the approach that current government takes. Along the Island and the Coast people have a tremendous attachment to their communities and they want a say in shaping their future. I said earlier that my Island and Coastal Caucus is tenacious and outspoken. Well there is a reason for that. Their communities are tenacious and outspoken. Over the last number of years on some fundamental issues the Island and Coastal communities are being sidelined and out future is being shaped by others making the decisions.

We’re in the midst right now of one of the most profound and social transformations since the 1940’s. For generations forestry has been the backbone of our Island economy. We know that that’s changing. The forest industry is still important but the future looks a lot different than the past. The trouble is government doesn’t seem interested in asking anyone what that future should be. I can’t count the number of reports that this government has issued or commissioned on the coastal forest industry. They all have the same thing wrong. Communities were not part of that dialogue. Except for the rare instance where this government is forced to take some notice when communities protest you haven’t been listened too. Public lands have become private with little or no consultation. Raw logs are shipped off that land by the truckload. Destructive practices on those lands is destroying watersheds, it’s polluting our rivers and streams. Forest Act changes have resulted in consolidation and mill closures. Again without consultation. As forest workers lose their jobs proud communities lose their population. Now I’m not saying that change is bad, There is no question that the BC forest industry needs to change. It needs to modernize, it needs to attract new investment and it needs to develop new products and it needs to find new markets. We cannot make the world stand still. What political leaders should do though is everything in our power to make that transition work for communities. That is not happening right now in British Columbia and its certainly not happening on the Island. The Coastal Forest Industry, one of the most significant sources of wealth anywhere in the world is in crisis yet there is no plan for communities in transition. There is no vision for the future. There is nothing other than what consolidation and deregulation is going to bring about. For over a year we’ve been waiting for the Forest Minister to visit Port Alberni, more than just landing and flying out again. To actually see first hand the results of his government’s direction in the coastal forest industry. Now a year later government is delaying its response to its own report that recommends curbing raw log exports. It’s incredibly frustrating. I know it’s frustrating for you and your communities as well. There is something basically wrong when hundreds of millions of dollars are being poured into massive Olympic cost over runs and communities like Port Alberni have to plead for help.

After six years in power I have to say that I think this government is falling victim to the kind of entitlement of power that overtakes so many after longer times in office. We heard the Premier call fall sessions busy work. We saw that a critical agreement like TILMA that has serious implications for municipalities was signed without any opportunity for debate and discussion. Ferry fares are skyrocketing and the Commissioner who approves them is forbidden by legislation to consider their impact on your family budgets or in fact the tourism industry. Municipal powers on water resources are over ruled by the stroke of a pen. Provincial budgets and the Throne speeches in fact have become public relations exercises to deal with the governments vulnerabilities instead of actually putting together real action plans to address the challenges in your communities.

Now I don’t mind that the Premier is actually trying to change his image. No doubt in fact a strong opposition has had something to do with that. But I do mind at time when our economy is doing well, when revenues are high that the government is doing so little to help communities prepare for the future, is downloading responsibilities onto you and over riding municipal powers. I do mind that after six years after promising health care where and when you need it that all we get is a conversation. And I do mind that this government has broke a promise to build 5,000 long term care beds and their cuts to acute care mean that emergency rooms in hospitals across the Island are gridlocked. I do mind that truckload after truckload of raw logs is leaving your communities and in return all you get is a pep talk from the government. And I do mind that the focus is on 2010 and very little attention being paid to what happens after the world goes home.

Over the next two years I’m going to continue to put a positive agenda for change and show the province that I will take. Just this week you may have heard that I proposed a tax cut for small businesses to improve our business climate. And I proposed raising the minimum wage to help hard working British Columbians make ends meet. Under my leadership the NDP has put forward a sensible climate change plan that actually caps emissions now not in 2020 and sets achievable targets to reduce green house gases. We’ve actually proposed to actually return to you a significant return of the surpluses we’re seeing in the budget to actually help resource-based communities plan for investments in the future. I proposed a fully costed housing plan that in partnership with you would actually build affordable housing in your communities. We will continue to fight to restrict raw log exports and the jobs and the wealth that go with them. We promise to return accountability and transparency to BC Ferries. And under my leadership we are committed to balanced budgets and a competitive tax environment for British Columbia. But I have to tell you that as proud as I am of the work that we have accomplished as an Opposition my goal wasn’t to run to be Leader of an effective Opposition Party. My goal is to be leader of an effective and responsive government for British Columbia. Thos of you who worked with me know that I care about results. I don’t care whether you’re an NDP, whether you’re a Liberal, whether you’re a Conservative, whether you don’t come from a political party I care about bringing people together to tackle the problems and challenges we face in British Columbia. I am practical, focused on strong results and determined to achieve a better future for all of us in British Columbia. I did learn those values from the grass roots work that I did in communities. Like you I know what it’s like to be closest to the voters. To be closest to your community, to spend time every single day whether it’s grocery shopping or whether it’s the work you do in the Council chambers meeting and connecting with communities and the people in your community every single day. Those values I’ve carried with me in all of my work whether it was my work at the BC School Trustees Association, my work as director of Child Care or now my work as a provincial politician. I know and believe in connecting with communities and supporting the work you do and ensuring that people are heard before decisions are made. I look forward and our team looks forward to working with you over the next couple of years and beyond to ensure that the work you do in standing up for your communities is also reflected at the provincial level. Thank you so much for the opportunity to be here this morning. I very much appreciated it. Thank you.
Thank you very much. It’s great to be here. I was just thinking as Bea was making that introduction that the very first time I got up to make a speech to an Area Association was at what was then the Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities in Port Hardy. That was just a couple of years ago now. I had colour in my hair; there was a whole bunch of stuff that was different then. But it’s great to be here.

It’s great to be here in the traditional territory of the Qualicum First Nation. I want to start by saying thank you to your Executive and particularly thank Bea for the work she has done and her leadership. It is the leadership at these regional meetings that really makes a difference to the UBCM. There is no question that UBCM is one of the most effective, thoughtful and creative organizations that we have in the province and is making public life better in the province. So I want to say thank you very much to you Bea, you’ve done a great job.

It’s great also to be here with Teunis again in his great town and with Brenda as the President of UBCM because some of the things I’m going to talk about, Brenda you’re probably going to get tired of hearing this as I have four other area associations to speak to. But I also want to pay tribute today to Jack Peake for the work he is doing as the Chair of the Coastal Economic Trust and his board of directors. Again I think it’s because of their thoughtfulness in building their objectives and directions from the ground up that we’re going to watch and see the Island Coastal Economic Trust as a huge difference in the quality of life and the opportunities that are created across the Island. It’s a critical part of our objectives. I hope that that $50 million dollars is helpful. If its not go talk to Bea about it.

It’s also good to be here with my colleagues from the legislature. I’m pleased to be here with Ida Chong, the Minister of Community Services, Murray Coell, the Minister of Advanced Education, Stan Hagen, the Minister of Tourism, Sport and the Arts, Ron Cantelon, the MLA for Nanaimo Parksville and I saw Scott Fraser, MLA for Alberni-Qualicum. Thanks for coming.

I want to talk to you today about some of the objectives we have for the province. We’ve done a number of things over the past five years, which are aimed at trying to help your communities be healthier communities where people have a sense of confidence about the stability of their future. We’ve had to do that in wake of pretty significant changes that have taken place and those changes have been felt here I think in a positive way on Vancouver Island. We have the lowest level of unemployment we’ve ever had in terms of reporting unemployment in the province. Vancouver Island is watching as their unemployment numbers have gone down significantly. Young people are coming back to the Island and are thinking about building their future here. People are getting older here on the Island as they are in the rest of the province. The Island has some significant demographics shifts. We’re attracting older people to come and be part of the Island. As we look to the future we have to be sure we encourage a mix in population so there are young people to help old people, as we get older here on the Island. We’re watching the economic change that is taking place on the Island and really what I want to try and focus our attention on is how as we build partnerships we can create the opportunity to build positive change. Change is going to happen to us whether we want it to happen or not. I can tell you Gerry Furney and I have both got a lot older since he took me on my first tour of Port McNeill. Not that much older Gerry, ten or twelve years. But we’re getting older; we’re all getting older. On Vancouver Island we’re watching as the people over 65 is going to be greater than the number of people under 25 by 2020. That’s just 13 years away.

I can talk to you about thirteen years back. When I first went to Port Hardy and spoke to Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities but it’s like yesterday to me. That’s part of my life that I remember clearly. Thirteen years out you’ll be able to look back from this meeting here in Qualicum and say yeah, I remember that. Whatever happens in this meeting, you’re going to be able to say I remember someone did this and this and that and the next thing happened and it made a difference. It will be part of your life and of your memory. It’s just literally around the corner. So as we look at the world we’re living in today I think one of the challenges that we face is how do we make sure we marshal the creativity, thoughtfulness, the commitment that you have at the local level – how do we match that with the objectives we’ve set provincially and how do we help take those provincial initiatives and drive them to a national agenda that actually helps Canada? Move in the future, shape the future and manage the future in a way that we can say we live in a country that’s better in 2020 than it is in 2007. What are the things we have to do to manage those changes, which are frankly irrevocable? They are not surprises. It was about four years ago, I think you were in Duncan and there was a meeting of the Association and I talked to you about our aging society. The province has set aside some resources that you can tap into to think about how you would re-design your community and re-design the public services we have in a way that meets the needs of an older community. The needs of an older community are different than the needs of a younger community. The needs of today’s families are significantly changed from what we may have identified as the needs of the families of British Columbia fifty years ago. When I was a kid growing up there was 3 point something odd kids per family. I remember there was one family out of all the kids in my grade that had a car. One family, sorry a second car. Today virtually everyone has two cars. In fact the population growth of automobiles has been greater than the population growth of people in British Columbia over the last fifteen years. The world has changed. Both parents typically work today. That was not the case fifty years ago. How we deal with issues and how we meet the needs of people has also got to change if that world is changing.

As I look across this room how many people here are twenty or younger? How many people are under 30? Well I’m glad we’ve got some people who are under thirty. The world that we live in is going to be attracting people that are under thirty. They’re going to be thinking about their future and how they build it. So we have a responsibility when we are fortunate enough to be elected whether it’s provincially or locally to think about how we meet the needs of those people who are forming and shaping our communities. We all want to have young families in our communities. We all want our communities to be places where older people feel comfortable and confident. Those are things that are shared regardless of what region of the province you live in. What we have to try and decide is how do we make sure we build a partnership that allows us to meet those needs, different needs in different communities even on Vancouver Island with about 750,000 people living here. There are only five communities on Vancouver Island that are over 25,000 people. They have a particular role they play, a regional role in the Island and they have a leadership role to play and many of them do that. We’re asking those communities, Ida and I will be meeting with the Executive of UBCM but we also will be asking those communities directly to develop plans that show where they are going to have supportive housing. Where in their community are they going to be taking care of people with mental illnesses or people who need addiction services? One of the challenges we have is we often have resources but they can’t find a home in local communities and I understand that. I was a Mayor myself. I know how difficult it is to have those decisions made. But I also know how critical it is that we make them with out eyes open so that we focus our resources and we benefit societally and communally from the activities that we make.

So at UBCM last year as in the last five years of providing additional resources to local government shared down from the provincial government, passed right through from the federal government to the local government so you make your own choices, your own decisions in your communities that work for you. We’ve also established a number of programs, which are meant specifically to encourage, to build and to create the partnerships that are necessary for us to be successful on behalf of the people that we serve.

I want to talk briefly about some of those today because they’re critical and they’re really stepping stones I hope to building a partnership that will allow us to do some other significant things societally where we’re going to have to work in partnership between the province, the community and local government. We’re going to have to work between our government institutions and people and corporations and institutions to be truly successful and truly protect the values and the assets that we’ve inherited from the generations that have come before us.

So you will recall last year at the UBCM I announced that we would be launching a LocoMotion program. That was a program to encourage a partnership between local government and the provincial government. It’s a 50/50 sharing program. We’ve gone through the first round of awards to date. Ida has announced a number; about $17.3 million has been announced already in the LocoMotion Program for the first launch. What we really need to do there though is use that program and those resources to encourage some new thinking. New thinking about the shape of our communities. We set a goal for ourselves in the province or reducing our greenhouse gas emissions by 30% by 2020. We’re going to have interim goals at 2012 and 2016. But we’re going to accomplish our goals because we think we have an obligation and responsibility to our kids and our grandkids. We believe there are substantial challenges in front of us in meeting those goals. That is why we’re going to have to have the partnership between you and us to raise everyone up. And government in some cases is going to have to lead. We’re going to have to lead provincially where we’ve set a goal of being carbon neutral by 2010 and we’ll have to ask local governments to join us in doing that. We want to provide the tools, we want to provide the opportunities and you’re going to think of different ways of dealing with that in different parts of the province. We’re going to focus our attention on trying to do that. The LocoMotion fund is really one way of asking if you can think of ways to design your communities to encourage more physical activity that encourages more people to get out of their cars to go from where they live to where they work. Create the opportunity for compact communities and in some case those compact communities will not just be sounder environmentally but they will create social opportunities for more cohesive infrastructure.

In Qualicum here I know one of the concerns they have is affordable housing. We all know what it costs to build a house. It doesn’t change. Its land, its building and its time and taxes. Those four things actually create the cost of housing. So what do we do about that? In some communities the cost of the land, the increase of cost of land that is needed for housing that adds cost. So we’re going to be working with the local levels of government to find out how we can have smaller lots, smaller subdivisions so we can create more units on less land and create that in a way that is designed in so that people can actually live in a place and walk to where they work. We’re seniors in fact, we may not need as much space we used to need. We can actually have smaller homes in the communities where they live. And they can be close the services that seniors are demanding. So LocoMotion is going to be asking you to think about those things. And in the second launch of projects I can tell you LocoMotion is looking for new ideas, new responses, new ways that we can use your programs to share them with other local governments in the province so they can learn and benefit from your expertise.

We’ve also established a Town for Tomorrow program. I’m going to get to that in a minute. But I’m going to tell you that the LocoMotion program and one example of this that I think has been very good is what I’d like to talk to you about today. The province and the CRD and CVRD are already partnering in connecting the Valley Trail system to Victoria's Galloping Goose trail. We had a proposal that was brought forward to us by the Cowichan Valley Regional District to replace the historic Kinsell Trestle. Now this is a trestle that has real history, its real island history. It was first built in 1911. When it was completed it was the longest wooden trestle in the Commonwealth. At a height of 125 feet it reaches 650 feet across the Kosilah River near Shawnigan Lake. It helped connect communities like Shawnigan Lake and Lake Cowichan to Victoria and its supported by the local forest industry. It has a real place to play. Here’s the place it plays. Its historic, it talks about the economy of Vancouver Island and it reminds us if we do things properly today we can benefit everyone in the long term. So as part of the LocoMotion program I’m pleased to say that the province will be providing $1.6 million dollars to the Cowichan Valley Regional District to replace that trestle. There is another thing that is important. We will be encouraging people, cyclists, hikers, people that want to go for a walk, we’re going to be encouraging them to carry out that physical activity. We all remember about physical activity don’t we? Does anyone in this room forget about physical activity? We all need to have about 30 minutes a day of physical activity. If we can create communities that encourage that, that make it easier to take place we’re all going to benefit. We know that thirty minutes a day of physical activity reduces the potential diagnosis of cancer by 15%. In fact it reduces the incidence of Type 2 diabetes by 90%. So if we can design our communities in a way that encourages that physical activity let’s do it in a way that says to people you know if you can just get out and walk to work for fifteen minutes and walk home you’ve taken care of that particular challenge. So that’s really part of what we’re trying to do with LocoMotion as well as reduce the impact of greenhouse gas emissions. This is one way of doing that. I want to congratulate the Cowichan Valley Regional District for their leadership and their vision in that and I’m looking forward to having that trestle built in time for 2008 when you are going to be hosting all of the North American aboriginal and indigenous games. That will be $30 million dollars of opportunity right here on Vancouver Island because of your leadership and I want to congratulate you on that.

As well as the LocoMotion fund we announced a Towns for Tomorrow program. The Towns for Tomorrow program is for the sixteen communities on Vancouver Island right now. From the North to the South, from Port Hardy to Port McNeill all the way down to Metchosin. Any community under 5,000 people and its really to say we understand that often those small towns sort of feel like they get left out and pushed over to the side. We want to bring them right into the centre. It was a $7 million program. We expect to announce the successful applicants for the first round, which was $7 million some time in June. The $21 million dollars that the province has already agreed to put into this program covers 89% of the project costs so I would encourage you in the smaller communities as well to think of how your Towns for Tomorrow projects can encourage the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and encourage us to create more compact communities as you look to the opportunities that creates.

And on top of that we announced the BC Spirit Squares program. It’s a $20 million dollar program and what we’re trying to do is make sure that these Spirit Squares are really reflecting the spirit of your community and the spirit of your province. It’s really critical for you to know that we’re actually very sincere about this. You know your communities way better than we do in Victoria or someone else somewhere else. You know your communities, you know the place you can create as a gathering place for the people who live in your communities. And we’re hoping that the Spirit Square program, like Towns for Tomorrow and like LocoMotion will help us think a little bit differently about the communities we live in and what we would like them to be like in five and ten years and about how we can ensure they are better. I believe that working together we’re going to be successful with that. In fact if you feel that these programs have made a difference and have worked for you I’m encouraging to make sure that you let Ida know that they make a difference. We have lots of applications for these dollars. Think about the investment of those dollars, did they really work for you? Did they make a difference for you? Did they get you one step closer to the goal of where you want to go or was it just more of the same? Its easier to do more of the same but you and I both know that we’ve got to do things differently if we’re going to be successful and get different results in your communities to create healthier communities.

We’re investing literally millions of dollars in creating new opportunities to ensure seniors can find a comfortable and safe place for them to live in. In Ucluelet $3.5 million for Assisted Living projects and that opens this year. In Sooke, ground was broken in March for a $16 million lodge, 67 residence assisted living and care units. In Campbell River an $11 million for 54 units and in Qualicum Beach $4.7 for operations at the Gardens at Qualicum Beach. We’ve made a number of commitments like that which again we hope are reinforcing our senior communities and building a sense of community place and plan that is going to be ongoing. So today I want to mention a couple of last things as I close. We actually count on the partnership between the province and local government. That does not mean we will always agree and I’m sure there will be times when we disagree. What is really critical is your association and UBCM has always been willing to come to the table with an idea of what they want to accomplish and how we might get there. So I want to come to you today and ask you to help us as we strive to do something that is important to British Columbians. We want to be sure that we are a leader in terms of reducing our greenhouse gas emissions in this country. I have now met with the Governor of Alaska, the Governor of Washington, the Governor of Oregon and the Governor of California. We’ve talked about how we work as coastal communities to meet the challenges and they’re unique to us as coastal communities. You will feel it here on Vancouver Island and you’ll notice it. We feel it in the province already. But if we can find ways that we can build that partnership where we are working step by step, year in and year out to achieve our goal of a 30% reduction by 2020 I believe we not create just opportunity here but we will be able to create a better world, a place where communities are healthier for our kids to live in. I want to remind you that sometimes when we set goals for ourselves like that, not sometimes but always when we set goals like that you will hear people say it can’t be done. It won’t work. There are a lot of people that are far more comfortable doing things the way we’ve always done them than to look for new ways of approaching them. Five years ago in the province of British Columbia I can recall going to Campbell River, meeting with a friend of mine who had been trying to sell their home for eighteen months. It was the most important asset that they had and they couldn’t sell their home. They had another job in another community and they couldn’t sell their home. That is not the case in Campbell River today. It’s not the case on the Island. Homes are selling, homes are building, and young people are coming. Older people are coming, the economy is booming. There is opportunity and there is going to be change. What I ask you to do is help us assure that that change is positive and to have the vision, the strength and the tenacity that we saw in the Cowichan Valley Regional District to have a vision and say lets bring partners together to succeed in doing that. I hope that you will see the province as being one of your partners. I think that together we can encourage the federal government to join us in the initiatives that we take and I believe that British Columbia will be able to continue leading the country in a number of areas. Particularly in the area of building healthy and secure communities. So let me close with one last comment. It’s one of my favorite quotes by a German philosopher who once said, “whatever you can do or dream you can do begin it.” Boldness has genius, power and magic in it. Dream your dream. Act, be bold and you’ll create magic for the people and the communities you serve.

Thank you very much.
ADDRESS BY UBCM PRESIDENT BRENDA BIINNIE

I want to begin by thanking Bea Holland for her gracious introduction. Bea is a great member of our UBCM Executive. She serves on the Community Safety and First Nations Committees, and she serves with using tact and effective interventions that contribute to informed and reasoned decisions at the Executive Board.

I also want to recognize two UBCM Past Presidents Mayor Frank Leonard and Director Jim Abram.

I also want to thank you, the AVICC Members for your 100% support in renewing your memberships in UBCM. Full membership brings huge weight to our collective voice.

And I, the Executive, the staff and Bea Holland are going to do everything we can to win that support again this year. Lets start with one very concrete example of the AVICC/UBCM partnership.

We have been talking about a new Municipal House and Premier Campbell announced at the Convention in 2005 that in recognition of the UBCM Centenary, the Province would provide a site near the parliament building at 525 Government Street. That site signals the important value of close local to provincial government relations.

I am pleased to confirm that on March 23, 2007 the City of Victoria approved our rezoning and Development Permit application. This cleared the way for the government to transfer the site to UBCM. A formal transfer ceremony will take place later this month with Minister Chong officiating.

The bottom line is after 100 years, UBCM will have its own building. It will become the permanent home in Victoria for UBCM and because of our close Association with AVICC; it becomes your permanent home too!

You know as well as I do the importance of having a UBCM presence in Victoria. So, I spent a week there in February meeting Ministers and others.

But I set an objective for my term as President to see the full Executive meeting in Victoria and that is scheduled for later in April. It is an important opportunity for us to meet MLA’s and Ministers to advocate on your behalf.

The agendas for our Committees, the Executive and Ministers I trust reflect your issues and concerns:

- we will be talking to Minister Hanson about TILMA
- we will be talking to Minister Falcon about BC Transit
- we will be meeting with Minister Chong on a variety of issues including
- the Environment Committee will be dealing with on site sewerage regulation
I also have made a priority to reinvigorate our federal linkages. I met last month with senior federal Minister Chuck Strahl. That led to a meeting yesterday in Kamloops between UBCM and the BC Conservative Caucus.

I want to tell you that I have taken a different line from the FCM on reaction to the federal budget. The federal budget holds out for us in BC the prospect of the $1 billion for the extension of the Gas Tax Agreement. Think of it, one billion dollars. This is the largest federal cash infusion in the history of this province. The FCM said this was a "hold the line" budget - what is hold the line about a four-year extension worth a billion dollars?

I feel we need to say "this is good" lets get the extension "inked" into the Gas Tax Agreement. So that is why I put on a media release in support of the extension and the billion dollar infusion, that's why I wrote to the Minister and that's why we were at BC Conservative Caucus yesterday.

As you may know, there is some turmoil at FCM these days. I didn't mean our position to be seen as "breaking ranks" with their position, but I think it was not pragmatic and how could we pass by the opportunity to land a billion dollars?

As the FCM convention is ahead of us, we need to send a strong team to the National Board of Directors to get that organization on track and to get it working for all our interests.

I want to take a moment to talk about the Local Government Leadership Academy and its Inaugural BC Leadership Forum. Another exciting new opportunity is the creation of the Local Government Leadership Academy.

Again we had an idea and the Premier shared our vision. We had a vision of an ongoing commitment to training of local elected officials. UBCM does a good job I think with its introductory seminars for newly elected officials. But we don’t have the time or resources for much follow up. This is going to change. We presented the need for good governance education to the Premier and he announced a $1 million endowment at our 2005 convention. And its is happening - the new board has been formed - nearly $200,000 in additional donations from partners like MFA, BC Assessment, MIA, LGMA and form municipalities and regional districts have been received and we have an exciting Inaugural program lined up on June 13 to 15th. Our theme is leadership and the Premier will be one of our keynote speakers. Copies of the program and registration are at our table in the lobby. This will be the first of many programs to be offered by the Local Government Leadership Academy in its mission to enhance the effectiveness of councils and boards we need to lead to the corporations that govern our communities.

SPRING CONFERENCES

UBCM Executive has adopted an ambitious series of spring conferences that I would urge you to consider attending. These include:
• Treaty Conference
• The Effective Electoral Area Director
• Environment Conference

We have registration information at our information desk.

This has been a wide-ranging review of UBCM activities. I want to thank the organizers for inviting me. I have learnt so much about your issues and concerns that will inform our work at UBCM. I hope to see all of you at the UBCM annual convention will be September 24 to 28 in Vancouver.
Thank you very much. I appreciate your very kind words and the warm introduction. I did ask not to go through these bio’s that are printed on our website because they can be pretty dry but the most important aspect is that issue Bea mentioned and I take particular pride in is that I did start my public life as a municipal councillor. I know I made the right choice at that time and I was very much encouraged by some people not the least of which was former UBCM President and a colleague of mine Mayor Frank Leonard. He’s been a mentor to me and has always been a good friend to me. Thank you Frank for that.

I wanted to begin my remarks this morning by referencing something that the UBCM President Brenda mentioned in her presentation. It has to be with the importance of UBCM and the importance of AVICC in particular as being part of an association and then part of a larger organization. I know when I was on Saanich council when it came up for us to approve the payment for the fees for AVICC and the fees for UBCM I asked my good friend Murray Coell who was Mayor at the time, why do we pay these fees and do we really get anything out of it? Murray was very good about explaining that individually as a municipality it’s sometimes hard to hear your voice and have your voice heard and to bring about changes that we want at the local level. But if we all band together, if we put our resources together which I know you do we can a bigger, stronger and more positive effect. AVICC advances things that then go to UBCM and then UBCM works in collaboration with the provincial government and goes to FCM and so on and so forth.

So what is important is the fact that the gas tax transfer that Brenda spoke about, the $635 million dollars for five years which is transferred to you as local government and now a billion dollars that is being contemplated. This is a result of that organization that started at something like your area association, then through UBCM and then working with the provincial government. I can tell you that you are the only provincial organization through UBCM that actually sees those dollars flow through UBCM to you to access. Other municipal organizations whether its Ontario or Alberta do not have the same setup as we have here in B.C. I cannot overstate that too much depending on how you want to look at it because other municipal organizations in other provinces receive those dollars through the provincial government. We said very clearly in 2004 and again in 2005 when we were in negotiations with the federal government and at that time it was Murray and I’ll give him credit for working hard along side the UBCM President, I think it was Frank at the time and then Aaron and now Brenda that we believe we can flow this right to your organization to reduce and streamline the process so you can access those dollars. For some of you who have been coming to AVICC for years and I see lot of familiar faces, you need to know how important your involvement is to AVICC and then to UBCM. For those of you who have been coming for many years, thank you for your support and commitment.
This morning as I look out I see a lot of familiar faces and I saw a couple of colleagues of mine from the legislature and I wanted to acknowledge them. I don’t know if they’re still in the room. I know Scott Fraser was here last night and I saw Nicholas Simons here earlier. I’m sure you will have other MLA’s coming in and out. I saw Leonard Krog last night.

Last year you were in Oak Bay, my hometown from the perspective of being the MLA. I know that Victoria is always a drawing card because for some it’s considered a city although it’s still a very small city. Thank you for coming to the Greater Victoria area and being in Oak Bay because it was a special year last year where Oak Bay and Saanich celebrated their Centenary. They were very happy to share with you the pride in their communities and what they had accomplished. I know that the Town of Qualicum Beach is also going to be celebrating its 65th birthday as well. They were incorporated in 1942. Gerry Furney passed along a little brochure to me recently that in three days the town of Port McNeil would be celebrating its 25th anniversary. They were incorporated in 1966 as a village and now they are a town. So they will be having their Silver anniversary in about three days. So why do I talk about that – because it is important to go back sometime to our roots. A few months ago I was in Pitt Meadow when they changed their name from the District of Pitt Meadow to the City of Pitt Meadow. Again I asked the Mayor, Mayor Don McLean why did you feel you needed to change? He said, “Too many people were thinking we were an Improvement District, a business area district or even a water district so we thought if we called ourselves a city that would allow us as we want to market ourselves and partner with others and whether it’s a corporation or not in other jurisdictions they would acknowledge us a city. As the Minister of Community Services know that I am here to facilitate what changes you might want to make to enhance your profile, enhance your opportunities that you think exist out there for you.

I was really pleased to see when driving up here to Qualicum Beach that while things have generally changed, certain things have stayed much the way they are because here in Qualicum Beach we see that they have been able to preserve so much of their heritage and so much of what they began 65 years ago. The one thing that has really stayed quite constant is the fact that they started out as a community that catered to an older population and now they are a community with a median age of 58.1 years. That is the highest in all of Canada. I used to think from Oak Bay that we had the highest aging population and found out that it was Qualicum Beach. But you know it’s going to be happening to more and more of our communities, which is why it is important that as we move forward and as the Premier has said change is coming. Especially with a very, very huge shift in terms of age demographics is one that all of us are going to have to consider each and every day and month and year as we look out a decade from now. As the Premier said, we’re all aging and I certainly feel it at times as I’m sure many of you do but even though we are again I sometimes look back on when I started in public life in 1993 and I say to a lot of people, “I still remember the first day of my municipal campaign and I started out and said what do I do today and I walked out and I remember the first door I knocked on and it seems like it was just yesterday.” I hope each and everyone still feel that same way years from now when you’re sitting in room and you’ve done two decades of public service or whatever it is you decide because that feeling you have about serving the public should never ever wane. If it does then you know its time to move over and let someone else take your place. It is also encouraging to see so many young people. As the Premier asked yesterday and the hands were going up there are some young people entering public life and that too is encouraging. They are the ones we’re going to be looking at to put these changes in that we all need as we age.

I wanted to again just share with you one of the visions and commitments we made as government. It really connects with the theme that we had at UBCM last year that we had vibrant, connected communities. That still is very much the theme that the provincial government wants these communities to be vibrant. We want these communities to be sustainable and we want you to be able to meet the needs of your citizens, no matter what their age and ability. We want to be able to work with you as well to have our environments to be cleaner. Again we made it very clear that we had to set a target in terms of reducing greenhouse gas emissions. We’re all in this together.
Again if we go back to the start of what I said, individually we may be able to do things and we do want to do those things but collectively we can have a stronger, more positive force. At the end of the day whether we see those changes in our own back yards and our neighbourhoods in communities across the province, across the country we know that if we work together we will able to tackle and deal with the climate change and we’ll know that we started at the local government level. So whether you’re going to be looking at things like enhancing your bicycle lanes or looking at alternative transportation, reviewing land use planning we know and you know local governments are key to helping us reduce greenhouse gases. You are the ones who going to be key to providing physical opportunities in terms of your residents being able to have healthier lifestyles that benefit them. Its really not about looking at the past and the old way of doing things as the Premier has often indicated. It means that we have to be engaged. It means that we have to take some pride in what we’re already doing and build on that. It means we have to be exited by the future and we have to take a look at new directions and new ways of improving our communities as even better places to live and to work and invest. We do know that people move to British Columbia. We have migration coming back to British Columbia. Young and old, families coming to neighbourhoods we never expected before and they do so because you in local government have built vibrant sustainable communities.

But there still is more to do. We say this at the provincial level all the time. While we know the economy has turned around now is not the time to sit on our hands, now is actually the time to be even bold and move ahead. You also can do that at the local government level. I know it means you aren’t able to do some of the things you would like to do in isolation you cannot do this alone. So that’s one of the reasons why we have worked very hard to have a great relationship with UBCM, working with you to ensure your communities do support healthy environments, healthy lifestyles, healthy lifestyles for all British Columbians and we’ve been able to so that. Again because of our strong economy we’ve been able to find the resources to be able to work in partnership with you. We also know and I know you’ve heard this before from other ministries and in particularly from the Minister of Finance, the Honourable Carole Taylor, with a strong economy come challenges but there are also many opportunities.
So what does that mean for you as an individual municipality or a regional district? Well it means that we’re asking you to help us build those vibrant, connected communities. It means that to be socially responsible and environmentally sustainable we do have to connect to each other more and more. It means working together to achieve those goals. So that’s one of the reasons why we continually look at ways to work together and we do look to you for your input on how we can make that happen. I know that since 2001 there has been more than $600 million dollars in direct grants that have gone to local governments and sometimes it’s hard to fathom. Even when I ask my staff to gather some data for me it was difficult to see but when I started seeing things like the BC Community Water Improvement Program and I saw the MRIFF dollars, the Community Tourism dollars that have gone through and the money gave to communities for seniors and just a host of things that I know you can access through the UBCM website. I just know that these were the start of some initiatives and discussions that took place years ago and we’ve been able to build and diversify to allow those to be implemented and then build on them. At the end of the day these grants have been able to do things such as improve air and water quality, reduce energy consumption, improve safety, the traffic fine revenue sharing has been an important part of that. Encourage British Columbians to exercise, which is part of our Act Now initiative. As I said working in partnership with the Federal government there has been an additional billion dollars come through to communities for enhancing infrastructure and public transit which I know is going to be the next challenge that many of you face in your communities with an aging population, with people turning 80. I see this all the time, people who may soon have to limit their driving abilities throughout the day and therefore rely on some form of public transportation. Those are the next issues that we are going to fundamentally face together. So the funds that we’ve been able to provide to you through direct grants, the transfer of monies through to UBCM, I know they’re making a real difference in BC communities. I know they’re making a real difference to you and provided I’m still involved in this particular portfolio I will continue to be at the table as we look at innovative opportunities to provide local governments with the resources that they need to have their communities be vibrant and connected.

The Premier already spoke about the Towns for Tomorrow and there are sixteen communities who would fit in that category on Vancouver Island who are under the 5,000 population and I haven’t seen all the applications. I know they closed on February 16th so we’re going to be looking at what innovative ideas you have put forward in terms of infrastructure. The Premier already spoke about Spirit Squares and again those applications are in and we’re hoping to process those and have them available to you in June. And the one that is still out there for you to make application it is the Green City Awards and as the Premier mentioned these are real cash dollars that your community is able to be provided with if in fact you have an innovative idea to make your community greener with initiatives and projects that take place in your communities. The one other area that I know that has been important to you and I want to share with you is the Small Community Grants and the Regional District Grants. As you recall the Premier made an announcement in 2005 where he said we’re going to be doubling that program and he asked that I take that to Treasury Board to find out to implement the doubling. So we had about $27 million dollars in that program which had not been changed for almost a decade and I could have said let’s bring in it in 2009 as he gave me four years to bring it in. When I sat down with staff and said we’re going to have to make a pitch to Treasury Board and either bring in half of it in 2007 and then the last half in 2009 and what would be the best. We thought the easiest transition would be let’s do the four years and lets start with having an impact now and phasing it in with a quarter of that each year. So last year you saw the first increase towards that doubling, about $6 - $7 million dollars. This year you’ll see the extra $6 - $7 million so we will have seen an increase in that program by 50% in this second year. I’m pleased to announce that we have in fact done some calculations based on the formula that we worked out with UBCM that approximately $36.9 million dollars is going to be going out to local governments and another $3 million dollars to the regional districts and we hope to have those in your accounts by the end of the month.

I do want to say and again give thanks to UBCM because they were very, very critical in helping us design a program that was fair. As I said this program had not been looked for a dozen years simply because there had been no increases for a dozen years. So populations had changed, property assessment values had changed so UBCM sat down with our staff and said lets find something that was innovative yet at the same time met the needs of the communities and allowed for some flexibility. For that reasons it’s a doubling of the program but it doesn’t necessarily mean every community will see a doubling of your grant because your population in fact has changed. For some of the smaller communities it does mean there will be a doubling. I just want to share with you a couple of towns. For example Alert Bay who used to receive $160,000 already by 2007 will see $279,000 so they have already seen a more double amount. Highlands I know in 2005 received $123,000 and this year they’ll be seeing $239,000. They’re already almost at a doubling. Those are just examples of how we have managed to meet the needs of your communities and we’re really happy to see those extra dollars go to your smaller communities and ensure that its good news for you.

Three days ago as the Premier had indicated I had announced the first projects around the province in the LocoMotion program. $17.3 million dollars in 26 communities around the province. Yesterday he announced an additional $1.3 million dollars to the Cowichan Valley Regional District for the Kinsoll Trestle and we are now working to put together the package for the second launch of that $40 million dollar program and many of you I know will be putting an applications for those. I think they’ll be out sometime at the end of the summer so we can assess those over the summer and into the fall and be able to make announcements hopefully early next spring. But again as the Premier indicated we’re challenging you to take a look at new innovative ideas that connect their communities. I was really happy to be here yesterday speaking with Teunis and he showed me how the amount that he received for his trail connection allowed this community to put in a trail system that you can actually walk if you wanted to right from Qualicum into Parksville. But if you don’t want to walk you can cycle. Some of the things that you’ll be looking at as I hope you will as you ask for help to open those particular trails and bike lanes and walkways to consider persons with disabilities consider your seniors. Are your pathways going to be wide enough and I know you don’t want to see a lot of pavement but at the same time are they going to be wide enough for two walkers or scooters to pass each other. Those are the things I know you are going to have to deal with and think about as well. But it does mean as I say a $40 million dollar program over the next four years connecting within our communities, connecting between our communities. I hope you’ll give some consideration to that. At the end of the day we know it is about reducing traffic congestion and encouraging everyone to have healthy active lifestyles. I know in particular in my community of Oak Bay and Gordon Head and Saanich I’m particularly interested where there is a good transit system and good alternatives that biking has become really important and not only for people to bike to shop and to work but because we have a university for students to be able to bike to university. Universities are important. Now in Nanaimo there is Malaspina University College and up Island there is North Island College and I hope there will be some interest in that regard. At the end of the day as well you know that you will be helping us reach our target of reducing greenhouse gas omissions, improving air quality and certainly energy conservation. I had a lot of examples of areas, things that are happening on the Island but I think I’ll just pass on that because as I say you know more about what is needed in your community. I look forward to seeing and hearing more about that. I also wanted to just acknowledge that there are some really innovative green projects that are taking place. As I said the Green City Awards that we are going to putting out in cash awards range from the amount of $25,000 to a maximum of $250,000 and its about half a million dollar program over the next five years. So if you’re a leading edge local government that is making a difference providing a greener, healthier environment for your residents we want to know about it and we want to celebrate it. You might get that award and everyone at UBCM will know about it and we’ll be able to post it on the website so that others can take note and follow through on some of the things that you’re doing. Perhaps if they were to build on it they would apply the following year and see if they were able to win an award. We’re really excited about the categories we set up. There are about eight categories and we wanted to make sure that a community of 100,000 people was not competing with a community of about 1,500 people. That’s why we broke it down into various categories so that you could feel that you actually had the ability to compete for those dollars. It’s about sharing ideas and that’s what we’re hoping to do by having that.

Another priority that I know we’ve all been talking about and certainly at UBCM was a very important issue was housing. Housing is important in terms of helping those that are most vulnerable in our community. It will take all of us working together and particularly we are looking at local governments to help us deal with the homelessness issue and the opportunity to treat those that have mental health addictions and substance abuse problems. You may recall just eleven days ago there was an announcement made by the Minister of Housing and the Premier; the largest single investment ever was made in terms of housing. $80 million dollars was invested in housing and services for people that want to make a better future for themselves. $80 million dollars was put in place to acquire a number of SRO’s, that’s single room occupancy hotels to make sure that those will stay for those who might be at risk of losing housing and for those who need housing. I can tell you that our housing budget has tripled since 2001. It’s now about $328 million dollars a year. It was about $112 in 2001. We know it’s making a difference. We need to help us ensure that that difference can be felt in your community. As I said as local governments you have a role to play here in our housing, in our physical activity and our transportation. The decisions that you make at the local government level and the decisions you make in terms of zoning are very important in reaching those targets. That is one of the reasons as well why we ask communities with more than 25,000 persons to identify and zone sites for supportive housing, for treatment facilities and for those with mental illnesses. We are asking you to put those in your official community plan by 2008. On Vancouver Island, for AVICC that’s only five communities. Those five communities are going to have a big impact. We’ll also be looking at developing changes at existing funding and transfer payments to ensure integrated regional transportation and housing plans and that’s to help you make a difference. We’ll be encouraging local government to exempt small unit supportive housing projects from development cost charges and levies. Again that’s to help you make a difference. We’re going to be working on the devolvement of a new assessment plan and new tax exemptions for small units for supportive housing over the next year. Those again are areas where you have a direct role. Its not only that we need to add to our housing stock but it is about finding steps to help reduce housing costs as well so that home ownership is within reach for all British Columbians. It means to also reduce the effect of sprawling communities to reduce the impact of environmental changes and damages to help reduce costs. It means looking at implementing higher density. That’s one thing that we know municipalities can do. While we are going to ask you to take a look at the opportunities there and I do call them opportunities and if there are issues that arise because of that you can and you should contact our Ministry, the Minister of Housing as well or any member of your Executive if you need to put forward an idea. Compact communities mean more of a sense of community as well. It means more affordable housing which we all know and it means healthier citizens which benefits all of us as a whole. I am looking forward to continuing the great relationship which we have with UBCM and as well working with the private sector to see how we’re going to develop new incentives that encourage smaller, more energy efficient homes that use less land, less energy, less water and that are less expensive to own.

And in the area of water, one of the very most basic needs that we all have we do have to take a look at water conservation. We know that makes sense. So why not monitor individual usage at the individual resident or property. How much water do you use? Do you really know? Does it make sense to let the property owner know? I hear from people individually that they want to know how to make a difference. They do want to be part of the solution and not a part of the problem. So doesn’t it make sense to match fees with usage based on metered water system? But if people don’t know how can they possibly deal with the conservation? So local governments need to work with us on that because I know local governments need to ensure the costs are recovered and that they can maintain the property taxes at the lowest level possible but its important that individual owners also know how much water they are conserving or how water they are actually using.

Another initiative on the go and I know you have already heard about that and that’s business harmonization. A healthy competitive business sector is integral to your sustainable communities and last year at the UBCM the Premier challenged British Columbians to become the first province to enact a single business license framework for local government to reduce cost for businesses. I know my colleague the Honourable Rick Thorpe who is the Minister of Small Business and Revenue is leading this initiative. He’s working in close partnership with UBCM, with our Ministry and also with the One Stop Business Registry toward the single business license for British Columbia by 2008. Those of you who know Minister Thorpe know that he will ensure that we have a great system in place by 2008. Once it is determined how that is and again I encourage you and urge you to provide input on how business harmonization can work for you and your community. I think it’s going to be another great opportunity for you to be involved in. As I say the Ministers model, his framework will be designed based on input from you. If he doesn’t hear from you he will just have to rely on the consultations he received from UBCM or the others from private sector. Don’t hesitate to let him know what you’re thinking on the issue.

Looking to the future I want to say that I was really pleased last month to bring in a piece of legislation that allowed us to see the first signing of the first resort revenue sharing agreement with Whistler. I met with the Mayor of Whistler and his council at the end of March to sign an agreement whereby they will now receive a portion of the hotel room tax and that’s for them to deal with the infrastructure and demand that take place as the result of a huge visitor population as opposed to the residents who live there who cannot handle those requirements. We want to see our vibrant, sustainable resort based communities continue to have tourism and economic opportunities across British Columbia whether they are ski hills or on lake or river fronts or overlooking the ocean. These are about resorts, all year round resorts that are looking at tourism and the potential to grow. The Revenue Sharing program means participating municipalities whether they are small or large can invest in their local tourism economies as we the province will be transferring a portion of that hotel room tax back. As many of you know there is 8 points of hotel tax currently collected and 1.65 of that goes directly to Tourism BC and eventually I believe that’s going to increase which doesn’t leave a lot left for coming back to the provincial treasury. We have said we’re prepared to give up 1 – 4 of those 8 points and depending on the units and population. We know that those dollars are going to be invested in things like walking trails, information centres, festivals, beach enhancements because those are what is coming forward already. So I am really looking forward to being able to sign some of those agreements with participating municipalities. Currently we know there are thirteen resort orientated municipalities or communities around the province. Here on Vancouver Island you all know that two of those Tofino and Ucluelet and I’ve already ran into the Mayor of Tofino and said how soon are you ready to sign that agreement to put that in place because we would like to be able to start transferring those dollars. Otherwise the Minister of Finance is very happy to keep those dollars and I’m looking to get them out to the communities. We also that this will help us reach our goal of doubling tourism by 2015. So many of you have taken advantage of the Community Tourism Program that has been highlighted earlier, the $25 million dollars of which half was already funneled out to you. Thank you for taking up that initiative. Thank you for those wonderful ideas. We’re going to be watching and see how that has encouraged tourism and if there is information there that I can take back to the Premier, my Cabinet colleague that can enhance that program I certainly will.

Finally I want to talk to you about another key priority for us. That is the Asia-Pacific Initiative. Some of you might think well what’s that got to do with you? Well you know that it is a key part in building our economy, in building bridges with communities throughout Asia and in China in particular. As a local government you do have a role to play and it’s an important one. We want to work with you to make sure there are some relationships that can be fostered and established with communities. So we’re going to be helping you in the next while about specific action, about twinning opportunities, sister city twinning opportunities in the next few months. There are some of you who already have those in place. Some of you who have them but have not been able to build on those opportunities and we think there is an opportunity that we as a province has come and make that a bigger visionary reality for you. At the end of the day if it means adding to your potential and ensuring that you stay competitive we want to be able to help you with that. We all live here on the Coast and we know that we’re acutely aware of the things that affect us differently such as our environment and our economies are integrated in different ways but we all face similar challenges. We are all affected by whether small, large, urban or rural we’re affected by changing demographics and increasing globalization and new technology but I want to say despite those challenges each and every one of us knows how much potential we have in our local government and I can tell you from my travels around the province I have continually in awe and inspired by those of you in local government. You have a very optimistic outlook and I appreciate that. You’re looking for solutions and I appreciate that. This is our time to shine. This is our time to work together to inspire others who might need our help. This is our time to be innovative and to be leaders. This is our time to ensure that here in British Columbia and that your communities continue to be the best place on earth now and for future generations. Thank you very much.
APPENDIX “D”

ADDRESS BY THE LEADER OF THE OFFICIAL OPPOSITION
CAROLE JAMES, MLA

Thank you for the kind introduction. Today I am joined by a number of my colleagues from my caucus, Nicholas Simons, MLA from Powell River Sunshine Coast. Scott Fraser, MLA for Alberni-Qualicum, Doug Routley our MLA for Cowichan-Ladysmith, John Horrigan our MLA for Malahat-Juan de Fuca and Maureen Kariaganis for Esquimalt-Metchosin. I know that Claire Treveena our MLA from North Island and Leonard Krog our MLA from Nanaimo have been around over the weekend. As you know the Island and the Coast sends the largest contingent of NDP MLA’s to Victoria. Certainly the Island and the Coastal MLA Caucus which is chaired by Maureen Kariaganis is a tenacious and very effective team. They represent all parts of this region. They represent a cross section of Island and Coastal life and they’re working very hard both inside and outside the Legislature to represent you and your communities.

Now I understand and I want to thank you for your patience because I understand I’m the third provincial politician to talk to you over this last few days. I know you’ve already heard from the Premier and the Minister of Community Services. I understand this is not a partisan event but none of you will be surprised to hear that my take on things is a little bit different than their take on things and I want to share a little bit of that with you this morning. Its not because I think the cup is half empty while the Premier thinks the cup is half full. It’s not just because the Premier says one thing so therefore I disagree with what the Premier says. In fact on some issues the Premier and I have similar views. On many others we’re miles and miles apart.

What fundamentally separates a Gordon Campbell government from a Carole James government are the principles and values that guide us in our decision-making. As I said I want to take a minute to talk about that difference and to talk about the implications on your world. As you know I grew up on the Island. Island life and culture is in my bones. I know personally what a ferry fare increase does to a family budget. Before I entered provincial politics as you heard I spent some time working up North and I loved it there. I learned to do a number of things that I never had the experience to do in Victoria like ice fishing and winter camping and driving logging roads. And I did have the good fortune to bring back a wonderful husband. So living in the North and working in the North certainly gave me an enormous appreciation for the diversity of British Columbia and I wouldn’t be standing here if it weren’t for my work up north. But the Island has always been home and the values that I learned here, working at the grassroots doing community work as preparation as you do are values that I bring to provincial politics.

Now some people say that my approach is a little less flashy when you measure it against the flamboyant traditions of BC politics. I can tell you I am happy to take that criticism because I learned long ago that a lot more is achieved by being practical, be setting achievable targets and by listening carefully to what other people have to say. It may take more effort but decisions arrived at through consultation, open dialogue, respectful give and take are much better than decisions made for quick political reasons without explanation and behind closed doors. But far too often that is the approach that current government takes. Along the Island and the Coast people have a tremendous attachment to their communities and they want a say in shaping their future. I said earlier that my Island and Coastal Caucus is tenacious and outspoken. Well there is a reason for that. Their communities are tenacious and outspoken. Over the last number of years on some fundamental issues the Island and Coastal communities are being sidelined and out future is being shaped by others making the decisions.

We’re in the midst right now of one of the most profound and social transformations since the 1940’s. For generations forestry has been the backbone of our Island economy. We know that that’s changing. The forest industry is still important but the future looks a lot different than the past. The trouble is government doesn’t seem interested in asking anyone what that future should be. I can’t count the number of reports that this government has issued or commissioned on the coastal forest industry. They all have the same thing wrong. Communities were not part of that dialogue. Except for the rare instance where this government is forced to take some notice when communities protest you haven’t been listened too. Public lands have become private with little or no consultation. Raw logs are shipped off that land by the truckload. Destructive practices on those lands is destroying watersheds, it’s polluting our rivers and streams. Forest Act changes have resulted in consolidation and mill closures. Again without consultation. As forest workers lose their jobs proud communities lose their population. Now I’m not saying that change is bad, There is no question that the BC forest industry needs to change. It needs to modernize, it needs to attract new investment and it needs to develop new products and it needs to find new markets. We cannot make the world stand still. What political leaders should do though is everything in our power to make that transition work for communities. That is not happening right now in British Columbia and its certainly not happening on the Island. The Coastal Forest Industry, one of the most significant sources of wealth anywhere in the world is in crisis yet there is no plan for communities in transition. There is no vision for the future. There is nothing other than what consolidation and deregulation is going to bring about. For over a year we’ve been waiting for the Forest Minister to visit Port Alberni, more than just landing and flying out again. To actually see first hand the results of his government’s direction in the coastal forest industry. Now a year later government is delaying its response to its own report that recommends curbing raw log exports. It’s incredibly frustrating. I know it’s frustrating for you and your communities as well. There is something basically wrong when hundreds of millions of dollars are being poured into massive Olympic cost over runs and communities like Port Alberni have to plead for help.

After six years in power I have to say that I think this government is falling victim to the kind of entitlement of power that overtakes so many after longer times in office. We heard the Premier call fall sessions busy work. We saw that a critical agreement like TILMA that has serious implications for municipalities was signed without any opportunity for debate and discussion. Ferry fares are skyrocketing and the Commissioner who approves them is forbidden by legislation to consider their impact on your family budgets or in fact the tourism industry. Municipal powers on water resources are over ruled by the stroke of a pen. Provincial budgets and the Throne speeches in fact have become public relations exercises to deal with the governments vulnerabilities instead of actually putting together real action plans to address the challenges in your communities.

Now I don’t mind that the Premier is actually trying to change his image. No doubt in fact a strong opposition has had something to do with that. But I do mind at time when our economy is doing well, when revenues are high that the government is doing so little to help communities prepare for the future, is downloading responsibilities onto you and over riding municipal powers. I do mind that after six years after promising health care where and when you need it that all we get is a conversation. And I do mind that this government has broke a promise to build 5,000 long term care beds and their cuts to acute care mean that emergency rooms in hospitals across the Island are gridlocked. I do mind that truckload after truckload of raw logs is leaving your communities and in return all you get is a pep talk from the government. And I do mind that the focus is on 2010 and very little attention being paid to what happens after the world goes home.

Over the next two years I’m going to continue to put a positive agenda for change and show the province that I will take. Just this week you may have heard that I proposed a tax cut for small businesses to improve our business climate. And I proposed raising the minimum wage to help hard working British Columbians make ends meet. Under my leadership the NDP has put forward a sensible climate change plan that actually caps emissions now not in 2020 and sets achievable targets to reduce green house gases. We’ve actually proposed to actually return to you a significant return of the surpluses we’re seeing in the budget to actually help resource-based communities plan for investments in the future. I proposed a fully costed housing plan that in partnership with you would actually build affordable housing in your communities. We will continue to fight to restrict raw log exports and the jobs and the wealth that go with them. We promise to return accountability and transparency to BC Ferries. And under my leadership we are committed to balanced budgets and a competitive tax environment for British Columbia. But I have to tell you that as proud as I am of the work that we have accomplished as an Opposition my goal wasn’t to run to be Leader of an effective Opposition Party. My goal is to be leader of an effective and responsive government for British Columbia. Thos of you who worked with me know that I care about results. I don’t care whether you’re an NDP, whether you’re a Liberal, whether you’re a Conservative, whether you don’t come from a political party I care about bringing people together to tackle the problems and challenges we face in British Columbia. I am practical, focused on strong results and determined to achieve a better future for all of us in British Columbia. I did learn those values from the grass roots work that I did in communities. Like you I know what it’s like to be closest to the voters. To be closest to your community, to spend time every single day whether it’s grocery shopping or whether it’s the work you do in the Council chambers meeting and connecting with communities and the people in your community every single day. Those values I’ve carried with me in all of my work whether it was my work at the BC School Trustees Association, my work as director of Child Care or now my work as a provincial politician. I know and believe in connecting with communities and supporting the work you do and ensuring that people are heard before decisions are made. I look forward and our team looks forward to working with you over the next couple of years and beyond to ensure that the work you do in standing up for your communities is also reflected at the provincial level. Thank you so much for the opportunity to be here this morning. I very much appreciated it. Thank you.
